SERVICE MEN OF DEKALB COUNTY ENDORSE WRIGHT

Faithful Service Wins the Commendation Of Ex-Service Men

So faithfully did Senator Harry G. Wright of DeKalb, Republican candidate for State Senator at the primaries on April 8, execute his duties as chairman of the Appropriation Committee under two governors that even his fellow office holders, with views differing from those of Senator Wright, had to admit that the nickname, "Watch Dog of the Treasury" was an appropriate title. During the time Senator Wright was chairman of this all important committee he saved the tax payers of the state of Illinois $25,000,000 in needless expenditure. Earnest, energetic and efficient not only to the needs of the residents of his own district, the 35th, Senator Wright has always given the very best of his ability to the interests of the entire state. As a result of his efficient service organizations like the Prairie Farmer comment on Senator Wright by saying "An able member whose record entitles him to re-nomination."

Senator Wright's entire life has been a battle against difficulty and he faces a fight for the protection of his constituents with the same determination to succeed that has brought him from the log house where he was born the eldest of nine children, to his present position. Senator Wright attended the county and high schools of his native county, taught school for two years and later attended the University of Indiana, Southwestern Business College and graduated from a Chicago Medical College, making his own way all the time working as street car starter, janitor, newsboy, waiter or any work that he could find.

He located in DeKalb where he practiced medicine and surgery and was elected county coroner in 1912 and was re-elected in 1916 by the largest number of votes of any candidate on the DeKalb County Republican ballot.

To Senate in 1920

In 1920 he was elected to the Illinois State Senate to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge Adam C. Cliffe and was re-elected in 1922 and 1926 where his services have won him the reputation of being one of the outstanding leaders of the State Senate and of the Republican party.

As proof of his leadership during five regular sessions of the Senate he has been chairman of the important committee on Public Utilities during two sessions and chairman of the Committee on Appropriations under two governors and has been a member of the other important committees at each session. While serving as chairman of the Committee on Appropriations Senator Wright was almost constantly in consultation with the Governor, Director of Finance and other state officials making his fight to cut down needless expenditures. Despite the tremendous amount of time devoted to this work he has been faithful and industrious in serving the requests of the people of his district and no request by letter or otherwise has ever failed to receive his prompt attention. During his two full terms and his partial term in office he has only been absent one day when the Senate was in session.

Favored Farmers

Farm legislation has received particular attention from Senator Wright and he has devoted much of his time in studying the various bills presented and has always tried to his utmost to place his support where it would do the most good for the farm industry. As a result of his activities in this particular branch of legislation Senator Simon Lantz for many years chairman of the Agricultural committee says in a signed letter: "Senator Wright has been a member of my committee and I could always count on him in any legislation of special interest to the farmers. His voting record on such matters has been 100 per cent.

During the last session he was extremely active and interested in the 4-H Club and Home Bureau legislation and I believe that had it not been for his active help on these bills they might not have been passed."

Senator Wright is a World War Veteran having volunteered for service though beyond the draft age. He has always been active in the American Legion and as State Senator has rendered valuable service to veterans of all wars by vigorously supporting legislation in which they were interested.

The DeKalb County Service Men's League with these facts in mind makes the following endorsement, "Be it Resolved, by the DeKalb County Men's League, in regular meeting assembled, that Harry G. Wright be and he is hereby endorsed by this League for the office of State Senator from the 35th Senatorial District of the State of Illinois."

The array of facts materializing after Senator Wright's ten years of active and conscientious service in the state senate promises a future service that is assured by past results.

Ribbon Murder Suspect Arrested Today

Modernization Of 23rd Psalm Urged By Philosophy Expert

New York, April 4—(AP)—Modernization of the 23rd Psalm is urged by Dr. Jesse H. Holmes, Professor of Philosophy at Swarthmore College, who believes the phrase "The Lord is my Shepherd" to be maeningless to the modern city dweller.

He suggests the following as substitutes:

"The Lord is my automobile's low gear to help me in climbing hard hills.

"The Lord is my antiseptic in times of dangerous epidemics.

"The Lord is my dynamo to charge my run-down batteries.

"The Lord is my sunlight in my room bringing me the health of ultra-violet rays."

Speaking in Columbia University as the representative of Quakerism at a symposium on religion, he said:

"Most religion nowadays is quoted. It is derived from the experience of somebody else, but has no real basis in own experience. 'The Lord is my Shepherd' tells us practically nothing about God. It is a sentimental phrase vaguely suggesting sheep. And what can that possibly mean to us of the city and the twentieth century?

COMMERCIAL H. S. PUPILS WILL CONTEST HERE

District And Sectional Meetings In Local H. S. Building

Officers of the Illinois State Commercial Teachers Association are president, D. C. Hilling, Peoria; vice president C. C. Ebbert, LaSalle; treasurer, C. W. Benson, Marion, and secretary, Gladys Miller, Peoria.

Chicago Bank Officer Took Own Life Today

Chicago, April 4—(UP)—Hugh H. Saxon, 37, Second Vice President of the Continental Illinois Bank & Trust Company, committed suicide today in the pantry of his home in Wilmette, north shore suburb, by slashing his throat with a butcher knife.

His body was found by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Rose Brodeur. His wife, Cecile, and four children were sleeping in the house at the time.

Relatives blamed a nervous breakdown from which Saxon had been suffering for the past three weeks.

DEATH ENDS MARTYRDOM

Tipton, Iowa, April 4—(AP)—A self-imposed martyrdom lasting nearly 40 years ended yesterday with the death of Mrs. Mary A. Wickham, pioneer resident, who since the early 90's has remained in her bed refusing to get up for any occasion.

Mrs. Wickham's singular vow to remain bedfast was taken 40 years ago when she became incensed at what she believed to be an unfair division of her father-in-law's estate.

CHARGES DISMISSED

Wooster, Ohio, April 4—(AP)—Charles Hannah and Earl Conold were freed from charges of stealing and murdering Melvin Horst, 4, of Orrville, Ohio, when Judge J. A. Starn today nolled the indictments against them. Judge Starn's action was requested by Prosecutor Marion Graven.

RED-HEADED MAN WITH RECORD IS HELD FOR PROBE

Admits Series Of Robberies In Vicinity Of Murder Scene

BULLETIN

Chicago, April 4—(UP)—A prowler who answered the description of the red-haired thief in all respects except age, was arrested today and questined in the ribbon murder.

Twenty suitcases of loot taken from as many apartments were found in his room. He said his name was George Hill and admitted the robberies. He has a police record of long standing but is 32 years old, while neighbors of the Helsing family said the peddler was about 21.

Chicago, April 4—(UP)—A red-haired youth who went from door to door peddling dress fasteners and other knick-knacks was sought today as the suspected murderer of Mrs. Mildred Helsing, 26, who died of fright as she was strangled with a ribbon last Tuesday in her apartment.

Mrs. J. C. Jorgenson, a neighbor of the Helsings, described the peddler, from whom she had made a purchase, as between 19 and 21. She said his actions were suspicious and as police worked on the clue they learned three other housewives in the neighborhood had been victims of small thefts Tuesday afternoon following visits of the peddler.

That the young housewife's death was not due to strangulation as at first believed but from a heart attack induced by fright was the statement of Dr. J. R. Kearns, Coroner's physician. Police added to the new theory when they declared marks on Mrs. Helsing's throat indicated she had been choked and then the ribbon drawn about her neck to prevent her regaining consciousness.

Police said the red-haired youth apparently visited most houses and apartments in the neighborhood, offering his wares for sale if anyone was at home and attempting to force entrance otherwise.

THREE BANK ROBBERIES TODAY NETTED ARMED BANDITS ABOUT $70,000

Two Banks In Ohio, One In Michigan Burglarized

Dayton, O., Apr. 4—(AP)—Five robbers masked and armed with a machine gun held up five bank employes of the Xenia Avenue branch of the Union Trust Company and several customers, looted the bank vault of practically all of its cash and escaped with a sum estimated at between $30,000 and $40,000 shortly after the bank opened for business this morning.

Two of the men remained in an automobile in front of the bank while the other three entered and forced the bank employes and customers to lie on the floor.

One of the robbers brought the machine gun into the bank while his two companions held the employes at bay.

Scooping up every bit of available cash in the vault and what was lying on the counters, the robbers made their escape in the waiting machine.

READING, O., ROBBERY

Cincinnati, O., Apr. 4—(AP)—The Reading bank was robbed of $9,000 today by four men who were armed with a machine gun.

A grocer across a street saw the robbers and opened fire on them. The robbers immediately gave up attempt to secure additional currency, ran from the bank, returned the grocer's fire with the machine gun and escaped in an automobile. None of the shots took effect.

BUSY IN MICHIGAN

Albion, Mich., April 4—(UP)—Four bandits entered the Albion state bank shortly before noon today, ordered at least three customers and four clerks to lie at the rear of the office while President Fred Garfield opened the inner vaults, and escaped with cash and negotiable bonds estimated at from $15,000 to $20,000.

FORMER FULTON CASHIER SUING HIS SUCCESSOR

Man Accused Of Embezzlement Alleges Slander, Libel

Morrison, Ill., April 4—(AP)—Suit was filed today in the Circuit Court by John T. Lorenzen, former cashier of the defunct Whiteside County Savings Bank of Fulton, Ill., against John G. Dykema, formerly Cashier and later Lorenzen's successor, for $50,000 damages for alleged slander and libel.

The notice is returnable at the October term of court, the suit being filed too late for the April term which opens Monday. Lorenzen resigned as cashier of the Fulton bank last fall and moved with his family to Hollywood, Calif., on account of ill health. When the Fulton bank closed in February, charges were filed against Lorenzen charging embezzlement of $10,200 of the bank's funds.

He was arrested in Hollywood and was returned to Whiteside county where he was released on bond for trial in the forthcoming term of court.

Mine Union Official Admits False Story

Harrisburg, Ill., April 4—(UP)—W. B. Orr, Financial Secretary of Local No. 10, United Mine Workers of America, who told police he was kidnaped by racketeers, taken to St. Louis and robbed of $100 of the local's funds last week, has admitted that his story was false.

At an inquiry into his disappearance and purported kidnaping, Orr told police and local members that he voluntarily went to St. Louis on a bus and spent the money.

He has been impeached as Financial Secretary of the Local, and given until April 10 to refund the money he allegedly embezzled, it was learned here today.

Calls Granite City Money Danger Zone

Granite City, Ill., —April 4—(UP)—Because Granite City is "a zone of danger," mailing of large quantities of currency from the Federal Reserve Bank in St. Louis for the large payrolls of the steel mills will be discontinued May 1.

The order to discontinue the shipments came from Washington through the office of F. A. Tilton, Third Assistant Postmaster General.

Officers of the Granite City National Bank, who have refused to use armored cars to carry the currency from St. Louis, are indignant at the order and hope to have it rescinded.

Husband Of Slain Woman Is Arrested

Bebring, Fla., April 4.—(AP)—William R. Carver, former Philadelphia real estate man, was held in jail here for questioning today in the ax killings of his wife and two-year-old son, which a Coroner's jury had blamed on a Negro yard boy, whom Carver shot to death.

Mrs. Carver and her boy were killed in the Carver home here Wednesday. The Coroner's jury said the Negro, Ben Whitehead, had killed them and the Whitehead's death at Carver's hands was justifiable homicide.

Carner was arrested yesterday after officers learned that he was beneficiary in a $10,000 insurance policy of Mrs. Carver, taken out last December.

State's Attorney Grady Burton ordered the arrest.

GUSHER UNTAMED

Oklahoma City, April 4—(UP)—The roaring Mary Sudnik oil and gas gusher, which has laid waste to the countryside for nine days, turned back a crew of picked oil men today when they tried to harness its flow with a huge steel clyinder.

Deadly fumes from the hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of oil and gas that spout from the gusher overcame one worker and made the rest ill when they waded arm-pit deep in crude oil to launch the cylinder into the roaring vent. Carrying their unconscious companion, the crew retired.

Gas masks were ordered for another attempt later in the day.

MARCHAND RELEASED

Buffalo, April 4—(UP)—Henri Marchand, prominent artist who has been held in the county jail here for the last 20 days as a material witness in the slaying of his wife, Clothilde, was ordered released today by District Attorney Guy B. Moore.

His release came as a result of a guilty plea to second degree murder by Lila Jimerson, Indian girl who formerly posed for the artist.

Announcement was made by Marchand that his resignation as staff artist at the Buffalo Museum of Natural Sciences had been accepted.

U. S. COMPLETION OF WATERWAY IN STATE APPROVED

Army Engineers' Plan Is Adopted By House Committee

BULLETIN.

Washington, April 4.—(UP)—Federal acquisition and completion of the $7,500,000 waterways project to connect the Great Lakes with the Gulf of Mexico through the Illinois and Mississippi river systems was unanimously approved today by the House Rivers and Harbors committee.

The Army Engineers' report was delivered to the House last night. It approves the Illinois system as a nine-foot channel federal project via the Illinois river, the Des Plaines river and the Chicago river to extend from the head of the present federal improvement of the Illinois river to the project on the Chicago and Calumet rivers.

The state of Illinois has spent $15,500,000 on the project which is about 75 per cent complete, but it has been found the total cost will be considerably in excess of the $20,000,000 available for the work. In urging federal completion of the project, Illinois authorities emphasized the $20,000,000 appropriated the state represented apportionately greater contribution than the federal government had required elsewhere.

Army engineers estimated it would cost the United States $7,500,000 to complete the project and about $233,000 annually for maintenance. The state of Illinois will be responsible for bridge construction maintenance and alterations necessitated by requirements of navigation.

MANY ELKS WILL GATHER HERE IN HONOR OF WARNER

Next Thursday Evening To Be Gala Event Of Dixon Lodge

Thursday evening of next week will be celebrated as State President's night at the Dixon Elks, club, and an assemblage of 350 Elks from Illinois are expected to be in attendance to honor Harry C. Warner, president of the Illinois Elks Association. The guest of honor for the evening will be Past Grand Exalted Ruler J. Edgar Masters of Chicago, present Grand Secretary, who will be accompanied by a delegation of Elks from that city. Past Grand Exalted Ruler Bruce Campbell of East St. Louis, and a delegation of down-state Elks are also expected. All of the Illinois district Deputy Grand Exalted Rulers will be in attendance.

The meeting has been arranged by Louis Pitcher, chairman of the state Inter-lodge Relations Committee, assisted by the officers for the local lodge. The advance reservation list of the members of Dixon lodge for the banquet and entertainment which will follow, has been very large and the indications point to the largest gathering of Elks in Dixon in the history of the local lodge.

Chairman Pitcher has received requests for reservations from practically every lodge in northern Illinois, who will be represented by delegations. Secretary George Hasselman of the state association will accompany the Chicago delegation as one of the honor guests.

A banquet will be served at the club house at 7 o'clock Thursday evening and this will be followed by an informal program, at which time the guests of honor will be introduced. A fine entertainment has also been arranged which will be held in the lodge hall.

Bride Of One Week Reported Kidnaped

Chicago, April 4—(UP)—A bride of one week was sought by police today after it had been reported that a rejected suitor had knocked her down, dragged her into an automobile and sped away.

Allen Storring, the young husband expressed fear that his 18-year-old bride, Anna, had been slain. He said that Joseph Palumbo, 21, had been lurking about their apartment since their elopement to Crown Point, Ind., March 28.

Mrs. Storring's sister-in-law, who was walking with her yesterday when she was seized, declared Palumbo was the kidnaper. Palumbo once was placed under $1000 peace bond for alleged attempts to kill Storring.

FIREMEN ON TWO RUNS

The fire department responded to two alarms last evening, being called to the American Cab & Body Company plant on Lincoln avenue at 6:40 to extinguish a grass fire. At 8:30 the department was called to the Dixon Home Telephone Company office building on Peoria avenue where a chimney was burning out.

PRISONERS COUNTED

Mrs. Florence M. Krug, census enumerator, performed a duty last evening which no other of the enumerators in Lee county will be called upon to perform. Calling at the county jail, at 7:30 last evening each of the eleven prisoners now in custody, was taken individually into Sheriff Miller's private office before the enumerator, where the necessary questions were asked.

1500 IN PINOCHLE

Harry Hess, local pinochle player, holds the record of having drawn probably the best hand ever dealt a Dixon enthusiast. Playing with Ray Ruppert and John Trouth last evening he was amazed to pick up his hand and see a mess of spades, which when appraised showed him holding 1500 trumps and 80 kings. When he bid 1700 his opponents threw down their cards and said "it can't be done."

CONDITION IS CRITICAL

The condition of Paul Anderson, injured recently in a collision between his motorcycle and an automobile on First street, who is a patient at the Dixon public hospital has taken a decided turn for the worse, due to infection developing in his hand. His mother, Mrs. Jessie Anderson of Centerville, Ia.; his brother George and family of Crescent City; a brother, Charles and family, and a sister, Miss Hazel Anderson of Rock Island, have been called to his bedside.

ITALY DELIVERS ULTIMATUM THIS MORN TO FRENCH

American Delegation Engages Passage Home For April 22nd.

BULLETIN

London, April 4— (AP)— The American delegation this afternoon engaged reservations to return home on the Leviathan April 22.

It was stated at American headquarters that this date was regarded as the limit to which the conference could meet.

It also was authoritatively stated all the delegations feel the conference must be brought to a close within a comparatively short time.

BULLETIN

London, April 4—(AP)—Signing of a three power pact by the United States, Great Britain and Japan and quick adjournment of the naval conference was said in an authoritative quarter late today to be quite possible.

This would involve leaving the knotty questions of French security and Franco-Italian parity to be signed in other fields, and would provide so that France and Italy would be in a position to sign as soon as these difficulties have been ironed out.

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

London, April 4.—(AP)— The Italian naval delegation astounded the London conference today by issuing, through its official spokesman, a statement which observers interpreted not only as a pointed reprimand to France but indicating that Italy is tried of the present Anglo-French negotiations concerning French demands for security.

The Italian feeling has been known in conference circles several days, but today's broadside was the first official recording of sentiment.

The spokesman declared that Italy's claim to parity with France is unchanged, although France "wants us to accept inferiority in naval strength."

He further announced that Dino Grandi, chief of the Italian Delegation, felt that the security pact which France demands as compensation for cutting her naval figures is a matter for the League of Nations and should not be discussed at the London conference

"After all," he said, "we came to London to talk disarmament and not to talk about the League of Nations covenant."

The Italian statement brought expressions of gloom from the French delegation this afternoon. The French were freely inquiring among themselves whether any useful purpose could be served by their remaining long in London.

Situation Not Good

Conference circles in general admit that they Franco-Italian situation is none too good but they recall that other international conferences have produced crisis, and that some times statements which are issued in moments of stress appear worse on the surface than they ultimately prove to be.

But this much was evident in all conference quarters today: everybody is eager for a showdown and the termination of the long drawn out negotiations.

The British and French are still working far a security formula, and if they should obtain it the conference expects to turn its attention to the Franco-Italian parity question.

The impatience of all concerned has become accentuated since the Americans, British and Japanese have reached an agreement which would permit a three-power treaty even if all else fails.

The Italians are particularly anxious that there be a plenary session as soon as possible so the cards of all the delegations can be put on the table.

Widow's Home Burns To Ground At Noon

The residence of Mrs. James Finnegan, 1014 Jackson avenue, was totally destroyed by fire about noon today. Mrs. Finnegan was reported to have been burning weeds and grass in the back yard preparatory to making garden. Swept by a high wind, the flames soon were beyond control and the house was aflame. The fire department was summoned at 11:15, but the wind-swept flames soon enveloped the small frame structure, which was totally destroyed before all of the household articles could be removed.

The grass and weeds continued to burn and while some of the fire department members were pouring water onto the burning building others were fighting the grass fires which threatened other properties in the neighborhood. The department remained on duty more than two hours fighting the fires. The loss to Mrs. Finnegan, a widow, was said to have been partially covered by insurance.

Novel Machine In Peoria Ave. Garage

The Barron & Carson garage on Peoria avenue has installed a machine, the sixth of its kind to be installed in the United States which is attracting a great deal of interest and is the latest development of its kind. The machine which is the latest of the Hunt company developments weighs more than a ton and performs a number of services.

Frames of automobiles or trucks which have been sprung, can be straightened without the removal of the bodies. Bent axles can be straightened without heating and without being removed from the machine. The car is driven on the machine where the many alterations may be made in a brief space of time and accurate in every detail.

CONDITION UNKNOWN

Baltimore, Md., April 4—(UP)—The condition of Booth Tarkington, author, who is receiving treatment at Wilmer Institute, Johns Hopkins Hospital, for eye trouble, remained unknown by anyone save attending physicians and members of the family today.

Tarkington, when he entered the hospital several days ago, asked that no reports be given of his condition.

Members of the family also refused to comment on the condition of the creator of "Penrod."

It is not known whether an operation is scheduled or has been completed and the exact nature of the author's sight failure has never been announced by Hopkins physicians.

THIRTEEN DIE IN BLAST

Brussels, Belgium, April 4—(AP)—Thirteen men were killed and eight injured in a firedamp explosion in a coal mine at louges, near Mons, last night.

Two of the injured men were seriously hurt and were taken out by rescue crews who worked desperately throughout the night.

The explosion occurred as an electrically controlled dynamite charge was detonated. The miner in charge of the operation declared that all precautions had been taken and that there was no trace of firedamp before the accident.

Tiny Plane Takes Off, Lands on Speeding Motorboat

This unusual picture shows a crucial moment as two daring pilots risked their lives at Long Beach, Cal., to prove the feasibility of taking off and landing a small powered plane on a speeding motorboat. Although the slightest hitch meant disaster, the plane made several "contacts" on the 12-foot deck while the boat was making 45 miles an hour. The above picture shows one of the takeoffs.

MRS. WHITE GAVE LUNCHEON TODAY—

Mrs. H. A. White entertained today with a 1 o'clock bridge luncheon.

State War Mothers Meeting in Dixon Is Well Attended

The get-to-gether meeting, or rally as it were, of the War Mothers of the State, being held today in G. A. R. hall is being well attended. No convention will be held this year and this meeting was necessary to have the officers meet and confer.

There were more than sixty-five registered at noon-day and more were expected this afternoon. At noon a delicious picnic dinner was served.

This morning the registration took place, with Mrs. John Strub, the state president taking charge of the meeting. In a prominent place of honor were lovely bouquets from contemporary patriotic organizations, the Ladies of the G. A. R., and the Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Many state officers are present. A distinguished visitor is Mrs. Julia Shugrue, of Centralia, Ill., a state organizer and great worker, and president of her local chapter of War Mothers. Mrs. Shugrue's work has been of such benefit that she is to be sent as a guest of the government on a free trip to France this year. She possesses a charming personality and has scores of friends—become one automatically, as soon as you meet her. There were many other delightful women present all greatly interested in this great cause—and a number of Gold Star Mothers were given affectionate greeting.

This afternoon after Mrs. Strub had called the meeting to order much business was to be disposed of and the chief speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Virginia Foote of Chicago, State Vice President, who in a most interesting and delightful manner gave an address on Child Welfare in Area D, which was replete with information on this subject so near to the hearts of all.

It is well to consider how you place your vote April 8th for County Treasurer. Sterling D. Schrock—successful Dixon business man—is thoroughly fitted for this work. 1t

YOUR CHILDREN

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

© 1930 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

I often wonder if we realize how sensitive children are—how easily their feelings are hurt.

We ride so ruthlessly over their preferences—their little ideas of propriety, and their small harmless vanities! It is little wonder they develop a high-powered complex, combined outraged pride and self-consciousness.

Children have a natural pride. We must not mistake it for vanity. Probably the thing that carries us all furthest in this world is that very pride. Yet we often rob them of it at the very outset of existence.

An Unforgotten Mistake

I have on my desk the photograph of a little girl. I keep it there as a reminder of one grand mistake I made one time that seemed such a little thing then, but that must have left a scar of slashed pride as indelible as the photograph itself.

The little girl had worn her hair a certain way for months. Then, with a great and glorious prospect of a picture in sight, I, her mother, conceived the idea of changing it for the occasion.

Once inside the gallery I could see that something was wrong, very much wrong. She was unhappy to the point of tears. "I don't like my hair this way," she wailed and broke into tears. "I look so ugly."

"That's ridiculous," I think I said. "I know the way you look best."

I remember that it was a rather long seance. She tearfully and timidly slipped her hair back the old way, but I came into the dressing room just in time to repeat my previous high-handed opinion and jerk it—very probably—back to place. Then I put in the combs. She hated that comb. It was only a little comb, and not supposed to show, but she hated it.

An Unhappy Model

Well, she tried to smile at the birdie, poor child, with me the winner and her hair done my way.

The negatives came, they were good I thought, and I had them finished. Now, after all these years, I see the comb and the tears. The comb, the hateful comb, slipped into view. The tears probably no one but myself can see. She wouldn't give one of those pictures away. I don't think she ever looked at them after the day the negatives came.

I let her change her hair back to the old way after that day and she got back her self respect. How foolish I was, and how mean!

Just a little thing, but so typical of the mistakes we make.

MARCH THE TOMBOY

THIS is the tomboy month of all the year,
March, who comes shouting o'er the winter hills,
Waking the world with laughter, as she will,
Or wild halloos, a windflower in her ear.
She stops a moment by the half-thawed mere
And whistles to the wind, and straightway shrills
The hyla's song, and hoods of daffodils
Crowd golden round her, leaning their heads to hear.
Then through the woods, that drip with all their eaves,
Her mad hair about her, loud she goes
Singing and calling to the naked trees;
And straight the violets of the little leaves
Open their eyes in wonder rows on rows,
And the first bluebird bugles to the breeze.

—Madison Cawein, in "Poems."

D. D. D. Club Was Happily Entertained

The members of the D. D. D. Club were most enjoyably entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. Gordon Bennett with Miss Mary Louise assisting Mrs. Bennett in entertaining.

Bridge was the evening's diversion and the favor for high honors was awarded to Miss Mary Evelyn Miller; while Miss Marie LeSage was awarded the second favor and Miss Lucille Stauffer carried off the honors for the consolation favor.

As a conclusion to an exceedingly happy evening the hostesses served delicious refreshments. Cut flowers the attractive decorations.

Miss Alda Holdridge of Sterling was an out of town member in attendance, and Miss Dorothy Lennon was a guest for the evening.

Ideal Held Most Enjoyable Meeting

The Ideal club held a most enjoyable meeting Wednesday with Mrs. William Beier, with thirteen members present. Lovely spring flowers were the decorations, and members answered to roll call with spring quotations. Mrs. Blake Grover gave interesting current events. Mrs. George Smith read an interesting articles from Colliers magazine on Ruth Hanna McCormick.

Following the program tempting refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. The annual guest night for the club will be April 30 with Mrs. Chas. Swim.

Mrs. Frances Dixon On Modern Methods

Mrs. Frances C. Dixon, a former teacher of Lee county schools, and now an instructor in the Maywood Melrose Park schools of Cook county, gave a demonstration lesson in modern methods of teaching for the teachers and principals of that district Wednesday, April 2nd.

Many valuable and worth while suggestions were given and the afternoon was voted as one most profitably spent.

LINEN HATS MAY TAKE STRAW'S PLACE AT TIMES—

Paris—(AP)—Linen hats may develop into occasional substitutes for straw for town wear. Colored linen hats and handbags had a smart vogue at Mediterranean resorts last winter. Dark colored linen hats as well as pastel and white models with linen brims and crowns were popular.

Baked Ham and Grilled Sweet Potatoes

1 slice ham, 1 1-2 inches thick
4 tablespoons flour
1-2 cup vinegar
1-2 cup water
1-4 teaspoon powered cloves
8 sweet potatoes

Sprinkle the ham with the flour and fit into a baking pan. Add the vinegar, water and cloves. Cover and bake for 1 1-2 hours in a moderate oven. Add the potatoes and bake for 45 minutes. Remove the potatoes and cook for 10 minutes directly under a fire. When the potatoes have browned on all sides, arrange around the ham, which has been placed on a serving platter. Garnish with parsley and serve at once.

Baked Brown Bread

1 1-2 cups flour
1 cup Graham flour
1-2 cup corn meal
1 teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1-2 cup molasses
1 egg
1 1-2 cups sour milk

Mix the ingredients and pour into a greased loaf pan. Bake for 1 hour in a slow oven.

Fruit Pudding

1-2 cup sugar
1-3 cup flour
2 egg yolks
2 cups milk
1-8 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup diced canned peaches
1-2 cup diced pineapple
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-2 teaspoon lemon extract
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
2 tablespoons confectioner's sugar
1-2 cup diced marshmallows

Blend the sugar and flour. Add the egg yolks and milk. Cook in a double boiler until thick and creamy. Stir frequently to prevent lumping. Add the salt, peaches, pineapple, vanilla and lemon extract. Beat for 2 minutes. Cool. Beat the egg whites and add the sugar and marshmallows. Fold into the cooked mixture. Pour into a glass dish and chill.

This is refreshing for spring serving.

Meeting Nelson Unit Home Bureau Enjoyed

The Nelson Unit of the Home Bureau met April 1, with Mrs. Dick Phillips at her home northwest of Nelson. Twenty members and twelve visitors were present. The home was pleasingly decorated in purple and gold, and cut flowers.

Dinner was served at noon, the preparation of the meal furnishing an opportunity for the demonstration of Skelgas.

The meeting opened at 1:30 by the new Home Bureau song. Business followed. A reading by Mrs. Ward Hartshorn was enjoyed. The lesson was given by the two unit leaders, Mrs. McCleary and Mrs. Heckman. An interesting kitchen contest followed. Remarks by Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Kugler, visitors from the Harmon Unit, were interesting. The recreation period followed, after which the meeting adjourned to meet again May 1st, with Mrs. Shaffer and Miss Shaffer.

The meeting at the hospitable Phillips home was one of much profit and enthusiasm and was much enjoyed by all attending.

St. James Aid In Pleasant Meeting

The St. James Aid Society met Wednesday April 2nd at the home of Mrs. C. C. Wilhelm in Dixon in an all day meeting. Mrs. Orvill Brandt and Mrs. G. B. Lindeman were the assisting hostesses. The forenoon was spent socially and in sewing and at noon forty members and friends enjoyed the splendid scramble dinner which these ladies served. At 2 o'clock the President, Lulu Patterson called the meeting to order by all singing No. 91. She then read from the 8th chapter of Mark, followed by another song No. 77. The minutes of the last two meetings were read and approved folowed by roll call. The treasurer then gave her report and two cards of thanks for flowers weer read. A motion was made and carried to continue the all day meetings through the summer months. Edith Bothe then played two piano solos and little Earl Burkett sang a group of songs which were very much enjoyed. The meeting closed by all repeating the Lord's prayer. The May meeting will be held at the Green home May 7th. Mrs. Chas. Whitebread then invited the Aid to come to her home sometime the middle of May, exact date to be announced later. The names drawn for program on May 7th are Alice Bahen, Ruth Maves, Fentie Reed, and Edna Topper.

One new member was added to the roll call. All departed to their homes, having spent a very pleasant day at the Wilhelm home.

Young Artist May Be "Operatic Find"

Chicago, April 4.—(AP)—For eight of her fourteen years, Ruth Hammerquist's hopes for an operatic career were blighted by blindness.

Today, new hopes uprooted the blight.

Cyrena Van Gordon, Chicago Civic Opera Company diva, heard the young girl's lyric soprano voice and pronounced her a possible operatic "find." She interested her husband, Dr. S. Bogart Munns, a specialist, who said Ruth's eyesight might be restored.

Blindness overcame Ruth just before she entered the first grade; but she completed grammar school and is now in a high school for the blind.

"She has a lovely voice for a child," the opera star said. "It gives great promise."

Ruth's widowed mother works as a seamstress and charwoman to support the five children.

Principals in World's Wettest Wedding

Los Angeles, April 4—(AP)—Katie Wilson, 23, and J. F. Gutrick, 26, principals in the reputed world's wettest wedding, today were honeymooning on the rugged shores of Santa Catalina Island after their marriage here beneath the placid waters of a swimming pool.

Donning earphones and diving hoods, the bridal couple and the Rev. Sheldon Shepard, pastor of the first Universalist church, in step to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin", waded into the pool yesterday and disappeared in deep water.

The bride was attired in a gown of pink moire, beneath which she wore a bathing suit. The groom wore the conventional black. The couple was attended by five close friends, three of whom officiated at air pumps connected with the diving hoods.

Bridge Tea Proved Delightful Affair

Last evening Mrs. George Crawford was hostess at one of the most delightful events of the season, a bridge-tea which honored her guest, Mrs. Austin Burgess of Oak Park. There were sixteen guests, four tables.

A profusion of gay spring flowers decorated the Crawford home, in various dainty colors. An elegantly appointed tea was served and a happy evening spent in bridge. Mrs. Ted Hirons of Elgin, nee Ruth Rice, was awarded the favor for high honors; Mrs. Charles Bishop was awarded the second favor; and Mrs. Willard Countryman won the third favor. Mrs. Burgess was presented the guest favor.

7:30 MONDAY EVENING—

Meeting of Auxiliary Veterans Foreign Wars

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary held a pleasant meeting Tuesday evening in their new club rooms in the old Masonic hall, at the corner of First street and Peoria avenue.

The meeting opened with the usual form. The minutes of the previous meeting were read, which was followed by initiation. A report of the recent bunco party was given and official communications were read, followed by the closing form for the meeting. The next meeting for the Auxiliary will be held in two weeks. There will be a council of administration meeting held at the St. Nicholas hotel in Decatur, April 12, to which all are urged to attend.

Prairieville Social Circle Held Meeting

The pleasant home of Mrs. Earl Harms, was the scene of an enjoyable all-day meeting of the Prairieville Social Circle Wednesday, April 2nd, when eighteen members, six guests and thirteen children were in attendance.

All enjoyed the delicious picnic dinner served at noon. The Circle having recently formed the habit of presenting birthday cakes, a lovely one graced the table and was presented to Mrs. Minnie Dollmeyer and Mrs. Edith Meyers, to be divided by those ladies. A quilt was finished before dinner. After dinner the business meeting was called at which time the society decided to make a donation to the Nachusa Orphanage and they will also send a crate of eggs to the Elgin Hospital for the feeble minded soldier patients. One new member was added to the society. The remainder of the afternoon was in charge of the entertainment committeee, and guessing games were given for which prizes were awarded the winners.

The meeting then adjourned to meet in two weeks with Mrs. Frank Brauer of 323 West Chamberlain St.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS TUESDAY AFTERNOON—

The Missionary Society of Grace Evangelical church will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the church. A good attendance is desired. Mrs. Ben Gagstetter and Mrs. Sarah Reis will be the hostesses.

Her Bridge Game Beat Her Husband's

Chicago, April 4.—(AP)—This game of bridge may lead to cruelty and divorce by various routes. There are some who are beaten and get divorces because of bonehead plays. On the other hand there is Mrs. Juliet White.

She, too, was struck by her husband as the result of a bridge game, she told Judge Joseph Sabath.

"You trumped his ace?" the judge asked.

"I should say not," responded Mrs. White. "I was playing against him and I played too well. He didn't take a trick."

She got her decree and a cash settlemen of $3,000.

The WOMAN'S DAY
by ALLENE SUMNER

A few days ago some man crashed into print advising women to work less and loaf more.

The idea itself was not so new, but he carried it a bit further than that. It was his theory that no woman could do her best by herself or her job, and keep her feet on the ground all day.

Women would make more efficient executives, he maintained, if when the motion occurred to them, they would just tilt back in their swivel chairs, elevate their well shod feet to the desk, man-fashion, and relax in a big way.

Whether the feet in the desk are important as a symbol of emancipation, or as an actual part of the relaxation program, I do not know.

LEARN TO LOAF

I would not take issue with him on the matter, though I imagine that many able executives would find it quite impossible to be thoroughly relaxed and comfortable casually bridging a desk and a chair in this casual fashion, and that they would rest more easily in a less conspicuous position.

But I do believe that if women could relax sufficiently when they are away from their jobs, they could repair their nervous energies sufficiently so they could stand the strain of their work without following his advice to the letter.

There are so few recreations that really have any element of loafing about them, when you come to think of it. Certainly there is nothing relaxing about playing bridge, going to the theater, or to somebody's party.

DOUBLE DUTY

And most women who work outside the home are quite apt to put in a full program of home acivities as well.

How many women do you know—you don't have to be exact, remember—who, on the way home from work, stop at the grocer's and the butcher's and gather up the ingredients for the evening meal?

Once inside the house, the preparations for dinner begin, followed by the inevitable dishwashing and restoration of the kitchen paraphernalia. And there are always extras—stockings to mend, blouses or lingerie to wash out, a party dress to press, and a few stitches needed here or there.

I know one woman who fights constantly with an overwhelming desire to make her own clothes in her odd moments, just because she knows how to sew, and can make a dress for 10 or 15 dollars that would cost her 50 in a shop. She never counts her eyesight, her nerves, or her time in the cost, however.

Too many women have become workers outside the home, without relinquishing their home responsibilities or duties, so that their freedom really means that they now have two jobs instead of one.

RELAXATION—AN ART

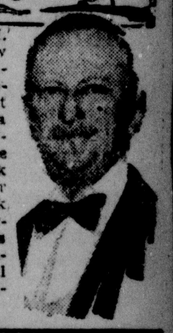

Relaxation is as necessary as recreation, but most of us would rather pass it up because it is really more of an effort to relax than it is to become excited, and we know the technique better.

Most women really need to be taught to relax—by a masseuse, an athletic instructor, or by an expert on physical training. They need to learn it as they would a new dance step or a difficult exercise. And they need to practice it. And knowing how to relax, they ought to take time out of their busy days, and actually do it.

Ten minutes a day in utter relaxation, will sometimes accomplish more than an hour of concentration.

AVIATION AND THE NEWSPAPERS.

In dealing with a newspaper reporter, nobody ever lost anything by being fair, frank and candid. The primary purpose of the press is to print the news as quickly and correctly as possible, and the more assistance that is given a reporter the more chances he will have to state the facts correctly in his story.

Aviation executives, after a long period of trying to clamp down an immediate lid of censorship and secrecy whenever an airplane accident occurs are now being called to task by one of their own number. He is Charles A. Rheinstrom, general traffic manager for the Thompson Aeronautical Corporation of Cleveland and Detroit. His company is one of the biggest passenger carriers in the nation.

* * *

"We believe we are safe in saying that newspapers have done more for aviation than has the industry itself in the matter of making the public air minded," writes Mr. Rheinstrom in the current issue of Aviation. "How else could Lindbergh's flight to Paris have focused the eyes of the nation on aviation had there not been newspapers to carry accounts of his marvelous feat?"

Turning to the newspapers' treatment of airplane accidents, Mr. Rheinstrom goes on:

"Remembering the co-operation and worthwhile publicity the newspapers have and are continuing to give aviation, are we right when we say that they are unfair to aviation?

"In our opinion we are not right in saying they (the newspapers) have been unjust in their treatment of accidents. An accident story is news, just as is the story of some outstanding feat. The newsapers have always printed the facts as they found them. And if inaccuracies have crept into some of the stories it is the fault of those of us in the industry. . . .

"We have had dealings with many newspaper men and reporters. Not one that we have ever known has been malicious or would write an intentionally derogatory statement about anyone without it being absolutely warranted. There are few professions with a stricter code of ethics. . . . Hence, if one makes it a point to treat the reporter fairly, he is bound to do the same for you."

The same goes for newspaper cameramen, he adds.

Mr. Rheinstrom closes with this bit of advice:

"An operator is hurting rather than helping himself and the aviation industry when he makes a deliberate attempt to hide the facts and to prevent publication of the account of a crack-up. To keep an airplane accident out of the papers is impossible. And the quicker all of us realize this and help the newsgatherers acquire the correct information, the better it will be for all concerned."

* * *

On behalf of the newspaper fraternity, we desire to thank Mr. Rheinstrom for stating the facts clearly and fairly.

The aviation industry has no greater sympathizer, friend and supporter than the daily newspaper. Yet, the newspaper has its obligation to its readers. It must print the news—all the news. It cannot chronicle aviation's achievements and ignore its occasional misfortunes and be fair to its subscribers.

The public realizes that occasional airplane accidents are inevitable, just as are railroad wrecks and steamship disasters. Many of them, of course, are unavoidable. But in any case, when a cloud of secrecy is thrown around an airplane accident and information is refused it raises the suspicion in the public mind that somebody has been criminally negligent . . . that somebody has something to hide.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinies finished eating soon and noticed, by the clock, 'twas noon. "No wonder we were hungry," said wee Clowny, with a grin. "Now that we've finishing with our meal I'll tell you frankly that I fell like going 'rou nd and seeing things. Just when do we begin?"

"Oh, my," replied the Travel Man. "We can go now. Of course we can, but why not sit and rest a while and watch the people pass. I guess I'm lazy as can be. Now won't you all sit here with me? Why promptly leave a place like this, when we have dined in class?"

And so they sat an hour or so. The scenes about were quite a show. Both autos and queer buggies passed along the avenue. The Travel Man then, with a smile, said, "Well, I guess we'll ride a while. I'll call a fancy buggy. How does that strike all of you?"

"That's fine," cried Scouty. "'Twill be fun to take a dandy ride in one. A buggy, I am sure, will be real pleasant for a change. Get one that's pulled by just one horse—if he can pull us all, of course." They shortly had the buggy and it sure looked rather strange.

The Tinies climbed into the seat. There came a clattering of feet and down the street the big horse went. The Tinies hung on tight. This made the Travel Man laugh loud and, to the happy Tiny crowd, he said, "Oh, don't be scared. I'm sure that you'll all be all right."

Soon something loomed up just ahead and promptly little Scouty said, "Oh, I know just what that is." And the Travel Man said, "What?" "The Arch of Triumph," Scouty cried. "I knew it soon as it was spied." And soon they eyed it closely, as they reached the pretty spot.

(The Tinymites take a boat trip in the next story.)

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY OF

PETER COOPER'S BIRTH

On April 4, 1791, Peter Cooper, designer and builder of the first American locomotive, was born in New York City.

At the age of 21, Cooper, poor and uneducated, showed his inventive genius by devising a machine for the shearing of cloth, which was used in the War of 1812. But rather than pursue his inventive bent young Cooper turned to manufacturing, a field in which he was to amass huge fortunes.

He started with a glue and isinglass factory on Long Island and then established iron works and wire factories in Baltimore, New York and in Pennsylvania. In 1830 he exhibited his lomocotive, "The Tom Thumb," for the first time on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. A few days after its debut it raced a horse-drawn car with 24 passengers over 13 miles of the railroad but lost when a belt slipped.

After his locomotive idea developed Cooper next became interested in the Atlantic cable. He was one of the earliest to urge such a communication between this country and Europe. Cooper held many public offices in New York and in 1876 received the Independent nomination for president.

Daily Health Talk

FRESH AIR SCHOOL ROOMS
By Charles R. Grandy, M. D., Norfolk, Virginia.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

In almost every large school you will find a number of children who are not able to keep up with their classes on account of frequent absences due to ill health. These children are perfectly normal from a mental standpoint, indeed some of them can be classed as very bright, but they cannot overcome the handicap due to frequent absence. The teacher in the regular class has not the time to give them the special attention which they require; so they become a burden on her and a handicap to the class.

As all of these children are physicallyunfit, the first thing needed is a good medical examination to determine where the trouble lies and how it can be corrected. After obtaining the consent and cooperation of the parents, each child should get a thorough health examination including a complete physical examination, various laboratory examinations a skin tuberculin test, and possibly an X-ray examination. It is also very necessary to look into the child's manner of living, to get the full cooperation of the mother, and to correct the home conditions which are frequenly responsible for the child's ill health. The first examination, however, is not the only thing the doctor should do, but the child should be sent to him regularly for inspection to see whether there is progress and if there is need of further treatment.

All over the country the schools have been trying to solve the problem of the physically sub-normal children by placing them in separate small classes where the teacher will be able to give them individual attention. These rooms are operated so as to give the children the best obtainable surroundings. First it is seen that they get a larger amount of fres hair by always keeping the windows open, from which circumstance these rooms have been named, Fresh Air Rooms. The temperature is also kept lower than in the ordinary school room, although not so low as to make them uncomfortable. An opportunity for extra rest is given by furnishing cots, and extxra nourishment by furnishing well blanced lunches.

A thorough physical examination; proper physical surroundings; regular inspection; consultation with parents; these are examples of what medical supervision can do for delicate chi'dren.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

DIXON'S EXXPLANATION

Editor Telegraph:—The attack of the Lee County Farm Bureau in its paper, the Lee County Farmer, too late in the campaign for me to answer, is unfair. The Telegraph's editorial of April 2 along the same line is based upon incorrect information, and I assume under those circumstances the Teelgraph will publish this brief statement to correct the erroneous impression arising from its editorial.

The basis of the Farm Bureau's opposition is that I did not vote for the Income Tax Bill their lobbyists presented to the Legislature, and the Lee County Farm Bureau has had nearly a year since I voted against that Bill but has chosen to wait until the end of the campaign before attacking me.

I asked the Farm Bureau to give me opportunity to state my attitude toward farming interests to be published in the same issue of their paper in which they planned to criticize my record, and their refusal demonstrates their unfairness. I also wrote Farm Adviser Yale that I would meet my opponent for a public discussion of our respective records, but of course I realized the absurdity of a debate with a disappointed lobbyist, as suggested by that organization.

Certainly I realize the importance of agriculture to this District and that it is entitled to proper representation, and suggestions that I am not friendly to the farmers are without merit, as my complete record discloses, but it has not been fully considered by the critics. The principal objection is because of the Income Tax Bill.

I favor an income tax, but only when it can be an assured and permanent substitution and will not become an addition to present taxes. My objection was to the particular Bill introduced, and not to the income tax principle, which is sound. There must be a constitutional amendment and general revision of the revenue laws to bring effectual relief in Illinois. I strongly favor that. I hope to see a valid and fair income tax law enacted at the earliest possible date.

The Income Tax Bill in question was hopelessly defective for reasons to numerous to mention in a limited space.

Governor Emmerson recently advocated a constitutional amendment. A Commission created by the last Legislature is now working on the question.

Real estate is bearing an unfair share of the tax burden, and I favor legislation to bring relief, but in my judgement the defeated Bill would have been ineffectual.

One of the many bad features of the Bill, was the provision that "A failure to do any act required by or under the provisions of this Act shall be deemed an act committed in part at the office of the Auditor at Springfield," which meant that any alleged violator would be indicted and tried in Sangamon county, for an offense that might have been committed in making out a defective income tax return in Lee County, and this made the entire penalty section of the Act unconstitutional, because the Supreme Court of Illinois has held that everyone is entitled to a trial by jury in the county in which the offense was committed, and it follows that without the penalty section, this tax law would not have been obeyed.

I am a member of the Lee County Farm Bureau and interested in the welfare of the farmers, and I am ready to act in their interests at any time.

BUT TWO STATES VOTE "BONE DRY" IN DIGEST POLL

Kansas And Tennessee Record Majorities For "Enforcement"

The vote for strict enforcement shows a slight gain in the fourth week's returns of The Literary Digests's "straw" referendum on Prohibition, though Kansas and Tennessee are the only two of the forty States reported which are voting bone dry, according to tomorrow's issue of the magazine.

755,857 new votes are reported this week from twenty additional States.

Of the 2,000,340 post-card votes returned through the mail and counted at the Poll headquarters, 848,751, or slightly over 42% of the total are wet and 598,252, or nearly 30%, vote damp while 553,337 are bone dry and demand a strict enforcement of the Prohibition Laws.

In every southern State except Tennessee the combined vote for modification and repeal is larger than that for enforcement, while in Maryland the vote for repeal is considerably greater than for both modification and enforcement.

The vast section of Dixie is appraised as voting "medium dry" by The Literary Digest.

In Florida, Kentucky, and Louisiana, the vote for repeal outbalances the total for either modification or enforcement.

In Maine, which has long been considered the bell-wether of the Prohibition movement, the drys outvote the wets by 4,116 to 4,035, but there is a third damp group of 2,589 who favor modification.

Oklahoma, one of the baby states of the Union, votes vigorously for strict enforcement, returning a total that almost outweighs both that for modification and repeal.

Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin, continue to vote strongly wet as does also the tiny domain of the District of Columbia.

Of the forty States reported, twenty show a vote for repeal that is greater than for either modification or enforcement, while in the other twenty States the vote for strict enforcement shows a larger total than for either modification or repeal.

"A little figuring," The Literary Digest states editorially, "will show that the bone drys have gained a trifle more than a point in ratio value since last week, while modification has gone down almost a point and repeal has lost a fraction of a point.

"Glancing at some of the newly arrived States in today's mammoth tabulation, we see Alabama and Arkansas running almost neck and neck and rolling up pluralities for enforcement.

"It will be seen that Delaware plunges for repeal, its vote in the third column outweighing its combined enforcement and modification votes.

"Florida, Louisiana, and Kentucky, also go wet—unless their modification and enforcement votes be counted together.

"Georgia remains loyal to enforcement, in a rather evenly distributed vote.

"Maryland goes ultra-wet, with the repeal vote outnumbering its other two votes combined.

"Mississippi favors enforcement by a small margin, but Tennessee goes dry with a bang, its enforcement vote soaring beyond its combined modification and repeal votes.

"Texas gives enforcement a solid plurality, but is counterbalanced by Virginia with a vote of similar proportions, giving its chief weight to repeal. West Virginia, however, rallies for the drys.

"And despite what the Governor of North Carolina said, in pre-Prohibition days, to the Governor of South Carolina, both states figure in The Digest's dry count.

"Turning to New England, we find Massachusetts delivering 30,688 dripping wet votes, as aaginst 19,594 dry and 16,723 damp ones.

"New Hampshire and Vermont on the contrary back the dry cause. Rhode Island, which is looking forward to holding an official prohibition referendum, plunges hard for repeal.

"But Maine, which has been called the Grandmother of Prohibition, rallies pluckily for enforcement and gets under the wire by a nose, as it were—4,116 dry, 2,589 damp and 4,035 wet.

"Looking westward we see Oklahoma plunging for enforcement."

The Literary Digest states that it has been bombarded with criticisms from those favoring every shade of opinion and it passes off the many objections as almost too silly to answer.

"This year," the periodical notes, "the bitterest of the accusations seem to come chiefly from our dry friends, who ought to know better—and some of them positively do know better.

"However, we are also being assailed by earnest wets, who accuse us of 'splitting the wet vote' and of further discriminating against them by throwing out ballots marked in more than one square.

"We always expect to be bombarded with local scandals about our ballots going to the wrong kind of people, and none going to the right kind of people.

"A favorite accusation just now is that we are sending no ballots to women, only to men. Whereas our enormous daily mail includes many complaines that the women are getting the best of it in the ballot distribution.

"Then there is a sinister story that The Digest is financed by the 'wet interests,' just as our 1928 poll was declared to have been financed first by the Democrats, then by the Republicans! To all such silly stories our sole reply is a vigorous 'Bosh!'

"The Digest finances its own polls, and never has cause to regret the outlay, enormous as it is."

The fourth report on the poll is:

State	Enforcement	Modification	Repeal
Alabama	2,979	1,678	1,713
Arkansas	3,447	1,724	1,749

As Byrd Set Foot on New Zealand

This, the fist picture of Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd to reach America since his return from the Antarctic where he spent two years in aerial exporation and flew over the South Pole, shows him just after he had landed at Dunedin, New Zealand. Beside Byrd is Mayor Black of Dunedin, wits cameraman on the other side. This picture was rushed from Dunedin to Panama, by a steamer that was waiting when Byrd arrived there, was flown from Panama to New York in a special plane and transmitted thence by telephoto. It was brought approximately 9000 miles by NEA Cervice for this newspaper.

Newspaperman Outspells Solon

Voters Attention

Many untrue and misleading statements have been made regarding my record and standing on several questions.

I never agreed with any one not to be a candidate for the Senate and this statement has not been successfully questioned.

I have for ten years worked and voted against any serious attempt to re-apportion the State and I have been and will continue to be for law enforcement.

While I am frank to admit I have made mistakes yet I have tried to faithfully and efficiently serve the people and I have only been absent one day in ten years when the Senate was in session and as chairman of Finance Committee have saved the tax payers millions of dollars.

As an indication of my standing in my state and district, below are a few of many endorsements on file in my office:

David Kinley, President, University of Illinois:

"As one of your fellow-citizens I wish to take this opportunity to express again my appreciation of your services to the great State of Illinois and the hope that you will find abundant satisfaction in the work you have done."

Sincerely yours
(Signed) DAVID KINLEY.

Dean Thompson of University of Illinois:

"Dear Senator Wright:

"It was with a great deal of consternation that I read in the paper a day or two ago of your accident. I regret personally, of course, that you should suffer such a mishap, but I have particularly in mind how much the state would lose if by any chance you should become incapacitated. Whatever you do, take care of yourself, because we have too few men like you to carry on our public affairs.

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) CHAS. M. THOMPSON.

The Legislative Voters League:

"Well informed, active, increasing independence. Reduced the omnibus bill by more than a million dollars when he was chairman of Appropriation Committee in the 1923 session of the Legislature. Decidedly creditable record."

The Prairie Farmer:

Thirty-fifth District (DeKalb, Lee and Whiteside)

"Senate, R—Harry G. Wright, Doctor, DeKalb, is an able member whose record entitles him to renomination."

The Dixon Evening Telegraph:

"Senator Harry G. Wright of DeKalb is the best equipped to successfully represent the 35th district in the State Senate. He has given this district ten years of valuable service and has demonstrated his usefulness to his constituents. We can see no reason to make a change this time and can, on the other hand see a number of reasons why we should not make a change."

I have many more fine endorsements from leading citizens and organizations and feel that my experience and position as one of the leaders of Senate will enable me to render even greater service in the future than in the past. Your help will be appreciated.

Sincerely yours
HARRY G. WRIGHT.

Honor Pioneer Women of West

This bronze statue of "The Pioneer Woman of America," honoring the memory of the heroic women who played an important part in the development of the west, will be unveiled at Ponca City, Okla., April 22. This statue and others have been given to the state of Oklahoma by E. W. Marland, upper right, millionaire oil man of Ponca City. It is the work of Bryant Baker, lower right, New York sculptor.

DAILY LENTEN THOUGHT

By George A. Campbell, D. D. .. Pastor, Union Avenue Christian Church, St. Louis, Mo.

"The man who cannot wonder, who does not habitually wonder (and worship)," says Carlyle,, "..... is but a pair of spectacles behind which there is no eye."

In these Lenten days we surely have enough to elicit the wonder of our souls. As we retrace the steps of Jesus as they led through Gethsemane, up to Calvary, and then out of the grave there is certainly cause for pause, wonder and worship. Our souls should arise to God.

Admiration and wonder spring out of much thoughtfulness. They cannot be caught on the run. Who stands in wonder before a rare orchid? Only he who has given much time to orchids. What does our age need more than to wonder and to worship?

We have been all too much absorbed by the discoveries in the physical world. In this Lenten season Christ calls us to the wonders of the spiritual. He calls the drab, indifferent church member to open his soul to wonder so that he may have the thrill of a new life within.

He calls to the patriot to wonder and worship. "I go to church," said Gladstone, "because I love England."

He calls to the criminal to pause in his red-handed destruction and to wonder, to remember his childhood feelings of awe and reverence, to look within, to look up, to know the sanctity of life.

He calls to those growing old not to grow old in spirit, but to cultivate wonder of soul.

He calls to ministers. Familiarity with holy things may deaden the spirit of wonder. Most gatherings of the saints impress me that they are straining to do rather than to wonder and praise and to be.

So let our prayer to God in these days of transcendent spiritual happenings be, "Open Thou my eyes that I may behold wondrous things."

WHEN IT LOOKS DARK to any weak, nervous or ailing woman, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes to her aid. Women in every walk of life today say Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a reliable medicine. It is made from roots and herbs, sold by druggists, in both fluid and tablets.

One woman who used it said: "For about four years I was in miserable health, so rundown and weak my nerves were all gone. I could not sleep, was all dragged out, pale and thin. It seemed that all the strength and energy I ever had were gone. I finally began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it built me up, restored my nerves. I felt and looked so well one would think I never had a sick day."—Mrs. Della Sherer, 1629 E. Calvert St. South Bend, Ind.

DIXON MERCHANT SPOKE TO GYROS ON CHAIN STORES

R. S. Kline Was Speaker at Sterling Club On "False Economy"

(Sterling Gazette)

R. S. Kline of Dixon gave an interesting talk before the members of the Sterling Gyro club this week. His subject was "False Economy" and had to do with independent retail stores and chain stores.

The speaker gave a brief history of the retail independent store, upon whose shoulders every municipality has been built. He then cited chain store history. He stated that a chain store is made possible by using the stock holders' money, and that 95 per cent of this stock is purchased by speculators.

"Competition," said Mr. Kline, "has always been considered the life of trade, if it is honest competition. Chain store competition is a heartless, ruthless warfare, showing instances of misrepresentation and using nationally known merchandise on the altars of cutprice counters to lead the public to believe that the old time independent merchants in Dixon, doing 95 per cent of the business done by independent retail merchants, and which is less than half of Dixon's total retail business, will pay a tax this year on merchandise stocks of $9,531.18. The 29 chain stores in Dixon, doing more than 50 per cent of Dixon's total retail business, will pay a tax this year on merchandise stocks of but $3,940.73. The disastrous result of such a drain is inevitable."

Mr. Kline continued. "The best spenders in any community are the independent merchants when they are making money. A survey covering the past two years shows the most decided loss to communities because of the fact that the independent merchants have not been in a position to buy for themselves and families. Sterling would not have this Elks club, and there would not be the fine schools, the new bridge and various other improvements including parks, if it were not for the independent merchants.

Even if chain organization should all decide to give 17 ounces to the pound, instead of 16, the city of Sterling or any other city cannot afford to have them. This government was found by the people, for the people, not for monopolies. Roosevelt and other leaders have warned us to beware of all monopolies and trusts. Your home and your future is at stake. Your property is worth less today than five years ago." The speaker gave as the cure, the organization against chain stores, advertising, education of the people, and the exposing of wrongs whenever they are done.

SCHOOL GETS MEMENTOS

Athens, Ga.—(UP)— Valuable mementos left to the trustees of the University of Georgia by the late Mrs. Rebecca Latimer Felton have been turned over to the University by her executors. Among the items is the commission issued to Mrs. Felton by Gov. Thomas W. Hardwick, naming her as United States Senator.

There are dust particles even in the purest air, and these cause the blue sky by scattering, dispersing and reflecting the light from the sun.

MANY SHOPPERS EXPECTED HERE ALL NEXT WEEK

Montgomery Ward Sale May Be Stimulus To Other Businesses

Hundreds of out of town shoppers coming to the city during the week of April 5 to 12, attracted by the announcement of the Ward Week sale, will prove the greatest stimulus to local industry of all kinds that has been known during the current year, was the prediction made today by G. H. Haight, Manager of the Retail Store of Montgomery Ward & Co.

"Judging by our experience in other cities, every enterprising merchant in the city will profit by the coming of the crowds, which will throng our city during the Ward Week Sale", Mr. Haight said today. "The local store considers itself essentially a local organization, a cog in the wheel of local industry wherever it may have its branches. This April sale is launched in the hope of stimulating a general widespread interest in the business enterprise of our entire community.

"Many of the shoppers we expect to visit our city during the week of the sales are people who have never been here before. They come with the buying interest uppermost in their minds and represent a great opportunity to wide-awake business men of the community. Such a group of visitors as we will have circulating through our city during the week of April 5 to 12, will go far in increasing the good will of this community throughout the county.

"Business men here are already making preparations to take care of the hundreds of visitors, and it is the hope of the retail store of Montgomery Ward & Co. that the Ward Week sale will be the occasion of the inauguration of a new season of prosperity for every merchant in the city and for the community as a whole"—Adv.

DEATH FOLLOWS QUARREL

Albia, Iowa, April 3—(AP)—Andy Clair, 27, of Lovilia, was held in the Monroe county jail here today in connection with the death of Harry Gowdy, 24, a miner. Gowdy died yesterday from a fractured skull received when he was struck by a beer bottle.

CUSTOMER RETURNS

Plattsburgh, N. Y.—(UP)— Well pleased with a box of pills he had purchased there 25 years ago, a farmer returned to have the prescription refilled at the Shedden and Booth drug store, only to find a candy shop standing in its place.

VICTIM OF GANG WAR AT DETROIT IN FLAMING BOAT

Wounded Man Rescued When Boat Crashed Into Pier

Windsor, Ont., April 4—(AP)—Another victim of warfare on the Detroit river was fighting for life in Grace hospital here today.

A flaming speedboat with no one at its helm crashed against a liquor export dock at LaSalle, Ont., about midnight last night. A limp human form was hanging over the side. An attendant at the dock dragged the man to safety before fire consumed his craft.

At Grace Hospital here the man was identified as Steve Jurecke about 25 years old, of Ecorse, a Detroit suburb. His face was partly shot away and a bullet had passed through his shoulder. After an operation physicians early today said he might recover.

No signs of liquor were found in Jurecke's boat. This led police to believe that the speed boat was returning to Canada after delivering a liquor cargo to the Michigan side of the river, when the shooting took place. Offiers of the United States Customs Border patrol at Detroit said today that no Federal agents had reported firing any shots on the river last night.

Before midnight Windsor police received reports of a fusillade of shots off Fighting Island, which is in Canadian territory. Jurecke was not known to border cities police.

TWO BROTHERS DISAPPEAR

Champaign, Ill., April 3—(AP)—Simultaneous disappearance of two brothers in widely separated cities last night concerned detectives at both places today.

Herman Klemick, often arrested in Champaign as the proprietor of a gambling establishment, telephoned Champaign friends from Hot Springs, Ark., last night and said he was being held prisoner at the point of a gun.

At about the same time, Fred Klemick left his home in Champaign. Late today he still was missing.

MODERN DAMON-PYTHIAS

Muncie, Ind., —(UP)— Modern Damon and Pythais stepped into the roles of the Biblical story in a recent initiation at the Pythian lodge at Muncie. Twin brothers, Damon Coy and Pythias Coy, sons of William L. Coy, past chancellor of the order, made pledges of love, duty and friendship as did the brothers in the Biblical story upon which the Knights of Pythias ritual is based.

The flag of the State of Vatican City is white and yellow, charged with the crossed keys and triple tiara.

PAIR KILL 14 WOLVES

Medford, Wis. —(UP)— Leon Blomberg and Neil Vesser, Medford trappers, have collected state bounty on their 14th wolf killed this winter in Taylor county.

The highest suspension bridge in the world has recently been put in operation across the famous Royal Gorge of the Arkansas river. The floor of the bridge is 1053 feet above the stream.

THOUSANDS FIND GLY-CAS SUREST WAY TO HEALTH

"Never Such a Remedy Before," Says Galesburg Lady in Praising Gly-Cas for Results Given Her.

Mrs. James A. Lawver, 399 North Henderson St., Galesburg, Illinois, is among the thousands of former suffering people who feel and frankly admit so publicly that there never was such a remedy before the like of Gly-Cas for even the most severe cases of stomach, liver, kidney, bowel, blood, nerve troubles rheumatism and neuritis.

MRS. JAMES A. LAWVER

"The rheumatism which caused me years of suffering has been driven entirely out of my system by the new Gly-Cas," said Mrs. Lawver. "It was settled all over my body, but especially in my knees, when I would go up stairs my joints would crack and pop so and pain me terribly. I also had a misery in the back of my head, a neuritis or rheumatic condition which at times made me think my head would burst it pained me so. I was in an awful condition as I could not get any sleep or rest, but when I began to take Gly-Cas it rid me of all this."

"Gly-Cas has ended all my suffering completely and restored me to good health, it has taken that miserable rheumatism entirely out of my body, even those terrible pains in my knees and the back of my head have left me. Now I can sleep good, I feel fine and am no longer bothered at all. Gly-Cas has given me new health and I am glad to recommend such a remarkable remedy."

Gly-Cas is sold in Dixon at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy, Dixon; W. J. Long West Brooklyn and Franklin Grove, G. S. Ives; Polo, C. R. Clothier; Ashton, G. R. Charters; Amboy, Archenbrenne: Drug; Compton, W. H. Hills; Rochelle, Barker & Sullivan and by leading druggists in all surrounding towns.—Adv.

GEORGE C. DIXON

Candidate for

State Senator

Reports of Legislative Voters League on George C. Dixon

MARCH 1928, WHEN A CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE:

"George C. Dixon, lawyer, Dixon; a man of ability, clean and of high standing in his community, where his family has been prominent and respected from the founding of the City; seems qualified to make an upstanding legislator."

JANUARY 1930, ON HIS SERVICE AS A REPRESENTATIVE:

"George C. Dixon, representative (Rep.); lawyer; Dixon. Is ending his first term, in which he was fatihfully attentive to the work of the session and showed excellent judgment in voting; showed decided legislative ability and effectiveness, both in committee and on the floor of the House; his record for the session was admirable and won him general respect."

APRIL 1930, WHEN A CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATOR:

"Dixon is recommend.

"George C. Dixon, lawyer; has served one term in the House with distinction; was closely attentive to work both in Committee and on the floor and used sound judgement in voting; showed decided legislative ability and made a remarkably fine record."

Regular in attendance. Voted on more roll calls than any member from House or Senate from 35th District last session.

The only candidate for Senator who has a clean record against re-apportionment. Downstate must not permit Chicago to gain control of the Legislature.

THE ATTACK OF THE FARM BUREAU, TOO LATE IN THE CAMPAIGN TO PREPARE A PROPER ANSWER, IS UNFAIR. Regardless of the Bureau's statement, I favor an Income Tax Law, as I believe in the Income Tax Principle, but I want it free from the constitutional and other defects in the Bill they submitted. I opposed the particular Bill and not the principle. Taxes should be more equitably distributed so real estate may be promptly relieved of its unfair share of the tax burden.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH
Lloyd Warren Walter, Pastor
Carl B. Caughman, Pastor in India

9:30 A. M. Bible School. Again we are on the increase and over-reaching the attendance of a year ago. However we have not reached our goal of a regular attendance of 400 every Sunday. There are plenty of non-going people who should come and who will attend when we become dead-in-earnest about our great work.

10:45 A. M. Divine Worship. As we approach the Eastertide very naturally our spirits turn to the way of life. In the spring of the year we plant our seeds; they die but new life comes forth. Out of death there has come life. It is not a parable but a fact, out of the cross has come life—abundant, abounding life—eternal life. Sermin topic "High and Lifted Up." The Girls Chorus will sing.

3:00 P. M. The Colony Appointment.

6:30 P. M. Luther League. Topic: "What is Involved in Deciding for Christ." It is a very suggestive topic and shoult be very interesting.

7:30 P. M. Vespers. This is a blessed and hopeful hoor and a fitting way to close the Lord's Day. Sermon topic: "Separated and Undefiled."

7:30 P. M. Monday—Regular monthly council meeting.

7:30 P. M. Tuesday—Y. W. M. S. meets at parsonage.

7:30 P. M.—Wednesday Lenten service.

2:30 P. M. Thursday W. M. S. meets in the church parlors.

2:00 P. M. Saturday—Confirmation Class meets in the church parlors.

You are invited to all our appointments.

SUGAR GROVE CHURCH

Sunday school at 1:30 P. M. Bert Pearl, Supt. in charge. The preaching service at 2:30 p. m. will be conducted by the Rev. Walter W. Marshall of the First Baptist church.

DIXON STATE HOSPITAL

The Sunday afternoon service for the staff, patients, and attendants at 3 P. M. will be addressed by Rev. Yloyd W. Watler of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

DIXON MINISTERIAL ASSN.

The monthly meeting of the Dixon Ministerial Association will be a county meeting on this occasion, so a full attendance is requested. The Rev. A. T. Stephenson will present the book review, "A Wanderer's Way," by Canon Charles A. Raven. There is very important business to be discussed.

Divine worship 10:45. Theme, "That Wonderful Redemption." E. L. C. E. services 6:30 P. M. "What Is Involved in Deciding for Christ?" Rom. 10:8-15 Evening service 7:30. Theme "The Sinlessness of Jesus."

Men's Bible Class will meet at the home of B. H. Gagstetter, 240 Lincoln Way. A good program is being prepared.

Midweek service on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

The Shepherd's class will meet at the church on Thursday evening. Mrs. Wm. Joynt and Mrs. Lester Mossholder are the hostesses.

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN
Cor. Third and Madison
B. C. Whitmore, Pastor

The services at the Brethren Church next Sunday will be to some extent of a special nature. On account of the redecoration of the interior just completed there will be a service in the nature of a modified dedication service. The subject for the pastor's message for the worship hour will be, "The Joy that is Real." The trustees desire to have a very good offering for this work. You are counted on to have a part in this great joy, as well as a full part in the reconsecration of life for the unfinished labors of loving service that awaits us all in the days just ahead.

The Sunday School meets at 10 o'clock in the study of the great theme "The Law of the Cross.' The crosses always precede the crowns Have you learned to thank God for the crosses you have been asked to bear? Crowns are but empty, hollow, meaningless bedeckments when no crosses have paved the way to them. What does your crown mean?

The evening service will begin at the usual time which is 7 o'clock. At this time the work of the B. Y. P. D., Junior and Adult departments assume their respective programs. The pastor's message at 7:45 will be on the theme, "Knowing Christ." Everyone is cordially invited to each and all the services.

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH
Rev. A. Turley Stephenson, Minister

The church school will meet at 9:45 next Sunday morning. C. C. Hintz is General Superintendent.

The morning hour of worship at 10:45. The pastor will preach on the subject "A Lesson in Obedience." The anthem numbers by the choir will be "What Ye Went Out For To See?" by Neidlinger, and "The Lost Chord," by Sullivan. Bertha Bennett Rorick, musical director; Crawford A. Thomas, organist.

The Epworth League will serve a Fellowship Tea at 5:30 next Sunday evening. The regular devotional service will follow.

The Church School Orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Will Smith will furnish a special musical program next Sunday evening at the regular church service hour at 7 o'clock. The pastor will continue his Sunday evening messages upon "The Cross," the subject for next Sunday evening being "The Cross of Christ and Discipleship."

The mid-week service on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

The various sections of the Ladies Aid Society will meet as follows next Friday afternoon at 2:30:

Section 1 with Mrs. G. P. Powell, 309 East Third St.

Section 3 with Mrs. Edward Shawger, 310 Fifth St.

Section 4 with Mrs Lewis Franks, 1013 West Third St.

Section 5 with Mrs. C. C. Hintz, 616 East Fellows St.

The Wesleyan Missionary Society will meet next Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Koller, 318 Everett St.

The members of the congregation are asked to keep in mind the program for Holy Week and Easter Day. Detailed program will be announced in the bulletin later on.

IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH

A. G. Suechting, Pastor
5th Sunday in Lent.

Sunday School at 9:30 A. M. Classes for all ages. Capable Sunday school teachers that have the welfare of the children at heart. Send your child to Sunday School.

Divine Worship at 10:40 A. M., conducted in the German language every first Sunday in the month. German sermon by the pastor. Appropriate music in German by the choir. Come.

Lenten Service Wednesday at 7:30 P. M. The beautiful illuminated cross is still over the entrance of the church beckoning you to come and worship with us. The colors of the electrically lighted cross or red and blue suggest the heavenly (blue) and human (red) natures in Christ. Our Lenten services are different. You will enjoy them. Each member of the congregation endeavors to bring a friend.

AMBOY IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH
"The Wayside Chapel"
A. G. Suechting, Pastor

Morning worship at 9:00 A. M with Sunday School immediately following. We have made a good start.

Last Sunday, at the first morning worship at 9:00 o'clock, the church was well filled. Let us keep it up and urge others to attend. Let us not be satisfied in coming ourselves but actually bring some one else to the service. Reward pins will be given to the children for regular attendance in Sunday school. Be present to receive your pin next Sunday.

"I SUFFERED 9 YEARS; KONJOLA MADE ME WELL

Grateful Woman Freed of Rheumatism—Pays Tribute to New Medicine.

MRS. CARRIE HAYDON

"I suffered for nine years and then Konjola made me well," said Mrs. Carrie Haydon, R. F. D. No. 8, Springfield, Ill. "Rheumatism had me in its clutches all those years. Often the pains were almost unbearable. I could hardly bend over, and it was impossible to carry anything. Besides this trouble I also had stomach and kidney trouble. They prevented me from enjoying a meal or sleeping soundly. I was weak and run-down in general.

"When Konjola was recommended I thought it would be like all the other medicines I had tried. But my friends insisted that it was different, and I finally consented to put it to the test. Well, that was all that Konjola needed. My system was cleansed and invigorated. I regained strength and energy. The rheumatism pains became less and less severe, and then disappeared entirely. Not a trace of any of my former ailments remain, and I heartily indorse Konjola."

Konjola is a systematic treatment taken after meals. Quickly it goes to the source of the ailments and, if taken regularly, it brings new, vigorous and abundant health.

Konjola is sold in Dixon, Ill., at FORD HOPKINS DRUG STORE, at 123 W. First St., and by the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT HEADQUARTERS

Specify SWP and engage a good painter

Why SWP costs less on your house than any other paint

What will it cost to paint your house? This is what concerns you — not what the paint costs per gallon.

While fine old SWP costs more per gallon, it costs less on your home than any other paint. Why? Because one gallon of SWP will thoroughly paint almost twice as much surface as a gallon of cheaper paint. Therefore fewer gallons of SWP are needed.

So — ignoring the fact that SWP lasts twice as long as cheaper paint, and that its weatherproof colors retain their beauty to the very last — the first cost of painting your house with the world's best house paint is actually less than that of cheaper paint. Buy your paint on a job basis and save. Let us prove it to you by simple arithmetic.

SWP House Paint

The world's standard of house paint quality. SWP is made in one quality only and that the very best. Famous for long life and the permanency of its many beautiful colors. Covers more square feet of surface per gallon. Costs less on the house than cheaper paints at a lower price per gallon. Regular colors, per gallon . . . Gloss White, per gallon . $4.00

S-W Floor Enamel

A beautiful enamel finish for wood, concrete or linoleum floors. Withstands daily scrubbing and tramping heels. Per quart $1.00

Question:

Who Built Dixon?

The Answer:

The Dixon Independent Merchants

The Conclusion:

Not The Chain Stores

A business proposition pure and simple of vital importance to every taxpayer, whether a business man, a working man, farmer or a professional man, this matter is far-reaching, more so than our people realize.

Mr. Farmer—
Why do you sell your products to the Independent Merchant and buy your needs at the Chain Store?

Mr. Banker—
How long do the Chain Stores leave their money in your Banking Institution?

Mr. Laboring Man—
Why do you support the Chain Store when they will not help community improvement projects?

Mr. School Teacher—
Why do you buy from Chain Stores when local merchants support the schools and help to pay your salaries?

Mr. Independent Merchant—
Let's work together against the Chain Store evil. This is an open season on Chains.

Mr. Insurance Man—
How much insurance do you sell Chain Stores with offices in New York?

Mr. Churchman—
Why do you buy from Chain Stores when you look to local merchants for membership and support?

Mr. Craftsman—
Why do you buy of Chain Stores when your prosperity comes from surplus money left in the town?

Mr. Doctor—
Why do you trade at a Chain Store when your income depends upon your Community?

Mr. Public Official—
What share of the city expenses do the Chain Stores bear?

Mr. Mechanic—
Why do you buy from Chain Stores when they give you no work in return?

Mr. Real Estate Man—
What will you do if chain stores predominate? Can you sell your properties to a shifting population of managers?

Where do you get your Credit? How Much "time" does the CHAIN STORE give you?

MADAME ALBANI, FORMER STAR OF OPERA, IS DEAD

Famous Soprano Of 19th Century Died Thursday In London

(Picture On Page 1).

London, April 4—(AP)— Madame Albani, noted soprano,, died Thursday in London.

Had Madame Albani stuck to the intention of her childhood ambition she would have worn the habit of a nun, and the world of music would have been deprived of one of the leading operatic sopranos of the 19th century. Unusual as it may seem, the one who suggested that she abandon the life of a religious life for one in music, is said to have been the Mother Superior of the Sacred Heart Convent at Montreal, which Madame Albani entered as a child of five to begin her education.

Having received early music instruction from her father, who was a church organist and professor of the harp, Madame Albani first attracted attention as a singer while a student at the convent. The Mother Superior noted the unusual qualities of her pupil's voice, but it was not until the family moved to Albany, N. Y., in 1864 that serious attention was given to its development.

Drew Attention

The young girl quickly attracted attention as a members of the cathedral choir at Albany and when she was only 15 years old was appointed organist and choir director of an Albany church. The Catholic bishop of that diocese took an interest in the girl and urged her father to take her to Europe for the development of her remarkable talent. After receiving instruction from the best teachers in Albany she went to Paris and studied with Duprez and then to Milan, where she was a pupil of Lamperti.

Madame Albani made her debut at Messina in 1870 in the opera "La Conambula," and was an instantaneous success. Two years later she repeated her success upon her first appearance at Covent Garden, London, and teherafter made her home in the British capital. She sang in opera in the principal musical centers of Europe and in concerts in the United States and Canad. For many years she was one of the leading participants in cantatas and musical festivals in England. In Berlin, after hearing her in "Lohengrin," Emperor William I. created her "first singer of the royal household." She was a favorite and intimate friend of the late Queen Victoria.

As an opera singer Madame Albani constantly added to her repertory until it included the leading soprano roles of all the popular stock operas. What many regarded as the greatest triumph of her operatic career was her singing of the role of Isolde for the first time in 1896 to the Tristan of the late Jean de Reszke.

Madame Albani retired from the stage and concert platform in 1912 with a farewell concert in Albert Hall, London. It was attended by 10.000 persons. Among those who contributed the program were Madame Patti, a rival of Madame Albani, and Sir Charles Stantley, the noted basso. Madame Albani spent several yaers after that as teacher of voice culture.

Native of Canada

Born at Chambly, a little village near Montreal, Can., November 1, 1852, Madame Albani was the daughter of Joseph Lajeunesse. She was christened Marie Louise Cecile Emma Lajunesse. Her stage name, it was said, was suggested by her teacher Lamperti as she was about to make her operatic debut.

A family named Albani, which had been intimate friends of the teacher for many years, had died out and having confidence that his pupil would become famous asked her as a compliment to adopt the name in order that it might live. Miss Lajuenesse was delighted with the suggestion, telling her teacher that it was a happy one because in adopting the name she would also be able to honor the city of Albany, where she made her really first appearance as a public singer.

Madame Albani also was an accomplished player of the piano, organ and harp.

During her days of prosperity Madame Albani gave generously to philanthoropic enterprises to such an extent that in later years she felt the touch of hard times. The British government granted her what is known as a civil list pension. She was honored in King George's 1925 list of birthday honors, being created a Dame of the Order of the British Empire.

In 1878 Madame Albani was married to Ernest Gye, an impressario and lessee of Covent Garden.

CAMPAIGN HITS NEW BITTERNESS AS POLL NEARS

Deneen And Mrs. McCormick Hurl Charges With Abandon

Chicago, April 4—(AP)—With meetings in some instances only a few minutes apart, the Illinois Republican Senatorial campaign grows more intense hourly.

In the counter-attacks of Senator Charles S. Deneen, seeking reelection, and ~~Ruth Hanna~~ McCormick, one of the two desiring the Senator's toga, two major developments added to the heat of yesterday's drive for votes in Tuesday's primary.

William A. Rodenberg of East St. Louis, a former Congressman, in a Chicago radio address last night came to the support of Mrs. McCormick.

"I am opposed to the renomination of Senator Deneen for the reason that I want to make sure of the election of a Republican Senator from Illinois in November," Rodenberg said. "Deneen is a factionalist. Throughout his career his chief concern has always been the perpetuation of his power as a factional leader. He utilizes the patronage attached to the office solely in promoting the interests of the faction of which he is leader."

In dwelling on Deneen's Senate record, Rodenberg declared the senior Illinois Senator "belonged to the class who are counted but not consulted."

"Practical Politician"

The other development, coming as the chief Deneen thrust of the day, was a letter purported to have been written to Judge Daniel P. Trude of the Circuit Court in 1926 by Mrs. McCormick in which the Illinois Congresswoman was quoted as saying:

"I am very sorry not to be able to endorse your candidacy but I am a practical politician and have cast my lot with the Crowe-Barrett ticket. In twenty years of political experience I have found it is more effective in the long run for me to endorse one ticket or the other, taking it for better or worse."

This reply was injected into the campaign by the Deneen forces to support their charge that the Crowe-Barrett-Thompson forces were aligned with Mrs. McCormick.

The third Senatorial candidate, Newton Jenkins, a Chicago lawyer, said the campaign should be recognized as a three-cornered race. In support of this contention, he cited the 120,000 votes he polled six years ago in the primary between Deneen, the late Medill McCormick and himself.

Eight more indictments, five of them against women election clerks, were returned yesterday as a result of the State's Attorney's office investigation into registration law violations.

JUSTICE FOUND GUILTY COUPLE AHEAD OF LAW

Former Bank Cashier And Cashier Found After Fifteen Years

Cheyenne, Wyo., April 4—(UP)—The fate that decreed Abram Cornelius should spend 15 years as a fugitive sought for embezzling bank funds and shunted him into a poor farm, a paralytic, was arranging today a bitterer bill—the return to the town he fled to stand trial and perhaps go to prison.

It was 15 years ago that Cornelius is charged with stealing $1,100 from the Citizens' National Bank of Englewood, N. J., where he was employed as cashier, and fled to Cheyenne.

It was 15 years ago that he telephoned his stenographer, told her of his plans and induced her to go with him, leaving behind his wife and three children.

For 15 years Cornelius and the stenographer, Loretta Adelgais, hid behind the aliases of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Cornell, until they were found—he at a poor farm, she at an insane asylum.

Cornelius pleaded guilty to embezzlement when arraigned before a U. S. Commissioner here late yesterday. The U. S. District Attorney announced the former banker had confessed

A. P. Cornell, the "son of a Brooklyn saloon keeper," and his wife came to cheyenne to "raise and sell cattle." But Cornell could not succeed in any one of a number of ventures.

Woman Lost Reason

Three children were born—today the year in a state orphanage and upon Mrs. Cornell fell the burden of providing for them. For a time she found employment. Then luck luck turned against her.

Several months ago the strain became to strong, her mind snapped, and was placed in the Wyoming State Insane Asylum at Evanston.

Little more than a year ago Cornell suffered a paralytic stroke. Several months ago he was released from a hospital. Then he was placed in the county poor farm.

Federal officers said Cornelius, or Cornell, told them he fled Englewood because he was "blue."

"I don't know how much money I took—I just seized a bundle out of the vault, called my stenographer, told her I was going west and asked her if she wanted to go along," the officers quoted him.

A certified copy of a Federal indictment is expected here by air mail within the next few days—and shortly after that Cornelius is expected to be returned to the city he left 15 years ago.

NECESSARY REDUCTION

IRENE: How did Pat manage to reduce so much?

BARBARA: Oh, her boy friend is out of town and she's been paying for her own meals.—Answers.

The great actress, Lillian Russell, was once presented with a gift from an admirer the best product of his factory—a gold-trimmed coffin.

LaSalle, Ill., April 3—(UP)—Police here have a problem today. They are seeking to solve the theft and destruction by fire of a car here last night.

In recent weeks numerous machines were stolen and were later found wrecked by vandals. Apparently the same ring is at work causing the destruction.

ACCOMMODATING

LADY: The pint of milk you brought yesterday was sour. What are you going to do about it?

MILKMAN: Well, I could bring you along a recipe for making cheese.—Passing Show.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

SPORT BRIEFS

By United Press

Lafayette, Ind.—Minus the services of Glen Harmeson, star centerfielder whose work on the gridiron and the court was instrumental in bringing the Boilermakers the Big Ten football and basketball championships, Purdue's baseball team will open its season today against the Wabash College nine.

Columbus, O.—George Simpson of Ohio State, regarded as the world's fastest human, and Claude Bracey fleet Texan, will meet in the 100-yard dash at the Ohio relays May 3, the relay executive committee anounced today.

Cleveland—The Cleveland Indians' hockey team held the International Hockey League championship today, having defeated the Buffalo Bisons, three games to one, in the playoffs.

New Orleans, La.—Quarter final matches in the men's singles of the New Orleans Country Club invitation tennis tournament were scheduled today. Pairings follow:

John Doeg, Santa Monica, Cal., vs Marcel Rainville, Canada.

Sidney B. Wood, Jr., Forest Hills, N. Y., vs. Donald Cram, Nashville, Tenn.

John Van Ryn, Orange, N. J., vs. Clifford Sutter, New Orleans, La.

Frank X. Shields, New York, vs. Jimmy Quick, Dallas, Tex.

New York—Amateur wrestlers from all sections of the nation gathered today for the national amateur championships, to be held at New York Athletic Club.

Preliminaries in all classes will be completed today with the semi-finals Saturday and the championship bouts Saturday evening.

Pinehurst, N. C.—After a day's postponement because of rain, the semi-final matches in the 29th annual women's North and South golf tournament were to be played today, weather permitting.

The pairings:

Glenna Collett, defending champion, vs Maureen Orcutt, White Beeches, N. J.

Helen Hicks, Hewlett, L. I. vs. Edith Quier, Reading, Pa.

Miami, Fla.—All the excitement about the supposed serious condition of Knute Rockne, Notre Dame University's football coach, appears to have arisen from a false alarm.

No one was more surprised to find that he had summoned a specialist from Mayo Brothers Clinic in Rochester, Minn., to his bedside here, that Rockne himself when he was found in St. Francis Hospital.

He said today that he is not seriously ill. The air at his ocean front apartment was too damp and Rockne came here for minor treatment for an asthmatic condition. The famous coach seemed in high spirits.

Montreal—Montreal's Canadiens today returned the Stanley Cup to Canada, birthplace of hockey.

Les Canadiens won the trophy emblematic of the world hockey championship last night by defeating the Boston Bruins, 4-3, making it two straight over the former world champions in the National Hockey League final playoff. Montreal won the first game, 3-0.

Thus the Stanley Cup is returned home after a two year sojourn in the United States during which the New York Rangers held the trophy in 1928-29 and the Boston Bruins in 1929-30.

Chicago—Results of the games played in the championship round of the interscholastic basketball tournament yesterday follows:

Braselton, Ga., 29; Kavanaugh, Lawrenceburg, Ky., 26 (overtime).

St. Johns Military Academy, Delafield, Wis., 22; Denton, Tex., 21.

Wheatland, Wyo., 18; Durham, N. C., 13.

New Brunswick, N. J., 33; Ely, Nev. 11.

Savannah, Ga., 35; Morgan Park, Chicago, 27.

Athens, Tex., 38; Y. M. C. A. Day School, Chicago, 15.

Acquatic Star Near Death In Big Race

Chicago, April 4—(AP)—John Rae, New York acquatic star, narrowly escaped drowning last night in a pool filled with some of the nation's best swimmers and lined with 300 spectators.

Rae was the New York Athletic Club entry in the 220 yard breast stroke of the national amateur championships being held at the Lake Shore Athletic Club. Before finishing the strenuous race, he was seized with a violent attack of cramps. He shouted for help, but the cheers of the spectators as the race neared its end drowned his cries.

The New York swimmer went down once without attracting the notice of the spectators engrossed on the exciting finish. He went down again but this time he was seen by a spectator, Lawrence M. Barr.

Unable to attract the attention of the other ten swimmers as the crowd cheered the new champion, Tom Blankenburg of Hollywood, Barr jumped into the pool fully clothed, pulled Rae to the edge and held him until he was taken from the water. Rae was semi-conscious and unable to walk, but was revived.

NEW WINTER WHEAT

Corvallis, Mont.—(UP) —C. Edson Smith, the world's wheat champion for two years, has discovered and developed a new hard red winter wheat —Smithsonian, by name— which promises to become an established popular variety. Official tests at Washington, D. C., reveal that the wheat yields 75 per cent flour and that the color and quality of the flour is excellent.

TRIED KAVATONE NOW NO MORE RHEUMATISM

Stubborn Case of Sciatic Rheumatism Relieved in Amazingly Short Time by Kavatone.

In telling the Kavatone Man of her experience with Kavatone, Mrs. Bertha Carpenter of 1006 Jackson Street, LaPorte, Indiana, related an amazing story of 6 years suffering that happily ended when she discovered Kavatone.

MRS. BERTHA CARPENTER

Almost beyond belief are some of the stories told by grateful people to the Kavatone Man regarding relief from ailments and pains of long standing. Cases of rheumatism, neuritis stomach trouble, nervousness, loss of sleep and liver and kidney trouble are among the things people report as banished through the use of this sensational medicine. And the best part about Kavatone is that it is not designed to give mere temporary relief, but working with nature, it brings new and lasting health.

"For 6 years I suffered from a terrible case of sciatica rheumatism. There was a constant ache across the small of my back and at times the pains in my hips and knees were so severe that I felt like screaming. My kidneys didn't function properly either and I had to get up as many as eight times at night. Of course this condition of my stomach made me very nervous and restless. Then, fortunately, someone told me about Kavatone and what it was doing for sufferers everywhere. I was very skeptical at first because during my years of suffering I had tried almost everything under the sun but never got the desired relief. However, I made up my mind to give this Kavatone a trial. And it was amazing the quick relief it brought. I have used but a few bottles now and I feel better in every way. I hope this statement is the means of Kavatone helping other folks as it did me."

The Kavatone Man is located at the FORD HOPKINS CO. DIXON, ILLINOIS, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this sensational preparation. The famous Kavatone figure, an ingenious human torso showing every organ of the body, is used in this demonstration and everyone is cordially invited to call at the store, get acquainted with the Kavatone Man and see this unique and interaesting demonstration.

Rhodes Scholars on Invading English Lacrosse Team

Returned to their native land in the role of sportsman invaders, these American Rhodes scholars are members of the Oxford-Cambridge lacrosse team now competing in this country. Pictured above during practice on River Field, at the University of Pennsylvania, are, left to right: M. J. Grove, from Yale University; A. C. Cornesweet, Brown University; L. H. Fairholt, John Hopkins University; R. MacIntyre, Yale; and L. P. Giddens, University of Alabama.

"Gray Streak" Sets Record

New Orleans, La.—Gray horses are in the minority on the turf, but when a good one like gray-coated Prince D'Amour comes along he usually steps to the front in the racing game. Prince D'Amour, above, is the two-year-old belonging to Joseph Leiter, Chicago millionaire, which established himself as the winter juvenile champion by winning the Louisiana Juvenile Stakes at the fair grounds here. He not only trimmed the best 2-year-olds, but established a new track record of :34⅘ seconds, clipping a fifth of a second from the old mark made in 1922.

Jockey Willie Fronk rode the "gray streak" to victory by six lengths. There is every reason to believe that had Prince D'Amour been pressed he would have set a new world's record.

BOY MISSING; 4 HORSES DIED IN STABLE FIRE

New Orleans Track Is Scene Of Blaze In Late Evening

New Orleans, April 4—(AP)—A boy was missing today and four race horses were dead as a result of a fire that destroyed barn number eight of the Jefferson Park race track here last night.

Jimmy "Red" Mulligan, an exercise boy for the Jack Bishop stable, was asleep in the barn when the fire started. No one saw him escape and he could not be found.

The four horses that died in the fire, origin of which was not determined, were cut off by a wall of flame from attendants who labored valiantly to save them, and who did rescue six of the ten horses in the stable.

War Hawk and Happy Bob, owned by Al Gall, and Francis Rock of the Bishop Stable were burned to death in their stalls. A fourth horse of the Gall string was so badly burned as to be unrecognizable.

Howard Bauer, 16, of Collinsville, Ill., saved two of the horses at the risk of his own life. H. W. James and Negro stable boys saved the other four.

Bauer, who was about to retire when he noticed the fire, dashed in and out of the blazing barn, saving Fenlight and Bunthorne, two racers of the stable of his employer, Jack Keller.

An investigation was under way today in the cause of the fire.

The horses burned to death were valued at $4,000.

WELL VENTILATED CABINS

Stanford, Mont.—(UP)— Dry Wolf canyon's summer cabins will be well ventilated this summer, thousands of woodpeckers have seen to that. These industrius feathered workers have methodically punched holes in roofs and walls until many cabins resemble sieves.

CAPONE IN FLORIDA?

Tallahassee, Fla., April 3—(UP)—Someone who resembles Al Capone ate breakfast with a man and a woman at a hotel here today, and inquisitive waiters, after several close scrutinies said they had "positively" identified the Chicago gang king.

The report followed one from Apalachicola, Fla., yesterday that Capone was seen there in a big red sedan with Ohio license number 34,-395.

HORTON SMITH LEADING MONEY WINNER IN PLAY

Missouri Golfer Tops Professionals In Net Earnings

BY DILLON GRAHAM
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Atlanta, April 4—(AP)—For the second consecutive year, Horton Smith tops the field of money winners among the winter golfing troupe.

The wandering professional, who learned his golf in Missouri's Ozark's not only has pocketed the most money but also has won more tournaments than any of his fellow performers.

Victorious in five tournaments, finishing second in six and placing high up in a number of others, Smith accumulated prizes of $15,500. In addition he played in many remunerative exhibition matches.

Gene Sarazen, stocky New Yorker, who won golf's largest prize of $10,000 at Agua Caliente, ranks second with $13,500.

Smith enjoyed a successful period on the Pacific Coast, winning the Pasadena, Berkley and Portland, Ore., opens. He was second to Craig Wood in the Hawaiian open and tied for second in the Agua Caliente and in the Los Angeles tournaments.

At Savannah, Ga., Smith took the first honors after nosing out Bobby Jones, national open champion. His Florida tour brought him first in the Central open at Orlando, second in the rich La Gorce open at Miami and a tie with Frank Walsh for second at St. Petersburg.

Smith, with the majority of the nation's leading professionals, took a neat lacing from Bobby Jones in the southeastern open at Augusta this week, but Horton topped the professionals and took the $1,000 first prize.

Al Espinosa, the veteran Chicago shot maker, played in practically all of the tournaments from California to Carolina and nearly always with success. He comes third with prizes totaling more than $6,000. He won the Houston open, tied with Smith for second at Agua Caliente and placed well in the others.

By winning the $5,000 first prize at La Gorce, Bill Mehlhorn turned a rather lean season into a profitable one.

Denny Shute, young Columbus, O., player joined the big money winners by virtue of his victories in the Los Angeles and Texas opens. His receipts run well over $5,000.

Los Angeles—Much concern over the condition of Rogers Hornsby's ailing heel was felt in the Chicago Cub's camp today as the club faced its final engagement with the Los Angeles Angels.

The Rajah dropped out of the lineup yesterday under doctor's orders and it was feared he might be forced to have another operation which would keep him out of action until the middle of the season. The continued hard hitting of Riggs Stephenson, and the work of the veteran pitchers, served to somewhat offset the gloom caused by Hornsby's incapacity.

Ft. Worth, Tex.—The Chicago White Sox, minus Sarge Connally, who was dropped for lack of adherence to training regulations, today started on the homeward trail.

The Sox finished their stay in Texas with a 10 to 4 victory over Ft. Worth yesterday, and today faced the opening contest of a three series with Little Rock of the Southern Association at Little Rock.

Man O'War's Famous Jockey In Comeback

New York, April 4—(AP)—Clarence Kummer who rode to fame on the renowned Man O'War, plans a comeback.

Each morning finds the erestwhile idol of the turf diligently striving to get in condition at Aqueduct. At present he is several pounds over weight but hopes to get down to riding poundage and at the same time regain the favor of the Jockey Club, which refused to grant him a license in 1926.

Kummer, who ranked with Laverne Fator and Earl Sande in his prime, finished the 1925 season with a clean record but his actions off the track were said to have aroused the ire of the racing solons. The Jockey Club, however, never stated its reason for refusing to grant a license to the boy who rode Man O'War to his twenty victories.

Levensky Uncorked A Driving Attack

Milwaukee, Wis., April 4—(AP)—Flooring Dave Maier, Milwaukee light heavyweight twice, and repeatedly driving him to the ropes, King Levinsky, Chicago, last night won a technical knockout in the first round of a scheduled ten round bout at the Auditorium here.

The referee stopped the fight as Maier clung to the ropes, attempting to recover from King's terrific punches. His seconds practically carried Maier to his corner. Levinsky tipped the scales at 172¾, and Maier weighed 171.

Frank Cheek, Milwaukee, 124, won a referee's decision over Roy Peters, Chicago, 126, in a six round bout.

"LOVE LIKE OURS CAN NEVER DIE," MUTTERED MARMADUKE, THICKLY.

"You'd be surprised," replied the sprightly Sophia. "With a rasping voice like yours, love is likely to fly out of the window and land on the back of its neck. What our love needs is insurance."

"What insurance?" he wondered.

"The insurance of OLD GOLDS, boy friend. Throat-ease and tender tones caused by the mellow, mild, heart-leaf tobacco; vocal cords that act without a struggle; no tickle, scratch or scrape. OLD GOLD yourself, Marmie, and we shall be inseparable. There's not a bark in a billion."

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

THURSDAY'S CORRECTIONS

(1) General Pulaski was an officer in the Continental Army, instead of with the Hessian soldiers. (2) Attacked is spelled incorrectly. (3) The quotation on the blackboard is from Patrick Henry, instead of Henry Clay. (4) The nearest corner leg on the teacher's desk is missing. (5) The scrambled word is KNUCKLES.

Murder Backstairs

©1930 by NEA SERVICE INC — by ANNE AUSTIN — AUTHOR OF "THE AVENGING PARROT" "THE BLACK PIGEON," ETC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DORIS MATTHEWS, lady's maid, is murdered in a summerhouse on the Berkeley estate, by blow from heavy perfume flask given MRS. GEORGE BERKELEY by SEYMOUR CROSBY, engaged to CLORINDA BERKELEY, whose scarf binds the rock-weighted body when it is taken from the lake by DETECTIVE DUNDEE.

Evidence involves Mrs. Berkeley, Clorinda, DICK BERKELEY, EUGENE ARNOLD, Doris's fiancé; GIGI BERKELEY, 15, who unaccountably sprinkled everyone Friday evening with perfume from murder flask, later placed in Mrs. Berkeley's room by WICKETT, butler.

An unfinished letter of Doris to her sister in London almost causes the arrest of Seymour Crosby, and links the maid's murder with the sudden death of PHYLLIS CROSBY 14 months before in London. Dundee cables Scotland Yard, then grills Crosby, who denies charges of having bribed or killed the maid, and having caused his wife's death, officially pronounced suicide.

The discovery that HARVEY JOHNSON, valet, has robbed Mrs. Berkeley and Crosby convinces STRAWN the murder is solved. Johnson is sought and Dundee left in charge at the Berkeley home.

MRS. LAMBERT, social secretary to Mrs. Berkeley, requests an interview with Dundee, begs him not to accept any solution which reflects on Doris's splendid character; then is closely questioned on the death of Phyllis Crosby, close friend of Mrs. Lambert and Doris's former mistress. Dundee asks: "Did Doris ever confide to you her suspicions regarding the real cause for Phyllis's suicide?"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIV

MRS. LAMBERT'S eyes flew wide, to stare at the detective incredulously. "Doris? Suspicions?" she repeated. "I don't know what you mean. I am sure Doris knew no more about Phyllis's suicide than I did, or than Seymour Crosby knew."

"Probably no more, but as much, Mrs. Lambert!" Dundee retorted significantly.

"Don't mind him, Tish!" Gigi cried, stroking the pale cheek of her friend consolingly. Then to Dundee she blazed: "Can you blame her if she fibs a little to protect Phyllis Crosby's memory from scandal?"

"I have told nothing but the truth, Gigi," Mrs. Lambert said wearily.

"You were at the inquest, of course," Dundee persisted. "You heard her father's testimony. He was on his way to see his daughter and to take her home when she died, I believe."

"Yes," Mrs. Lambert admitted, with sudden spirit. "But I believed then and I still believe that Cullen Benham was lying. He had consented to her marriage to Mr. Crosby, but he very mistakenly believed that Seymour was marrying Phyllis for her father's money. Mr. Benham said he had received a letter from Phyllis, asking him to cable her $25,000 and to let her come home. But he could not produce the letter; said he had destroyed it. I don't believe—"

"Yet," Dundee interrupted, "Mr. Benham was on a ship hurrying to his daughter's side, when she was killed."

"When she committed suicide," Mrs. Lambert corrected him.

"Pardon! And Mr. Benham had unquestionably cabled his daughter these words: 'Not another cent. Come home,'" he reminded her.

"If she had asked his permission to come home, I fail to see why he did not wait for her in New York," Mrs. Lambert pointed out.

"Possibly he wanted to deal personally with the man who had made her so unhappy," Dundee suggested. Then, as Mrs. Lambert expressed her scorn only with her blazing eyes: "Will you tell me whether to your knowledge Mrs. Crosby was jealous, or had cause to be jealous of any other woman?"

"No! I can swear that such a thought never entered Phyllis's head!"

• • •

DUNDEE was silent for a while, his eyes narrowed in thought. Then: "Did you see Doris after the inquest, Mrs. Lambert?"

"No, not until she came to see me upon my return to New York," she answered. "Her mistress' death was a terrible blow to Doris and after the strain of the inquest she collapsed. The papers said that she went to the home of an aunt, in a London suburb. I made a note of the aunt's name and address and sent flowers and delicacies to her there, but did not go to see her, since I myself was suffering from the strain and from grief. I went to a little village in the south of France and remained there, in seclusion, until I sailed for America early in August."

"Did you see Mr. Crosby during that time?"

"No, but I had several letters from him. He was traveling over the Continent, making a brave effort to conquer his despair. For several months I feared he would—follow Phyllis, and in my own letters to him I said everything I could to make him happier."

"And yet, just 16 months after his wife's death, Seymour Crosby becomes engaged to be married to another girl," Dundee reminded her.

"No fair!" Gigi protested, making a face at the detective and burrowing deeper into Mrs. Lambert's embrace. "I've always heard that widowers who were crazy about their wives get married again quick."

Mrs. Lambert smiled, dropped a grateful kiss upon the tumbled brown curls then explained to Dundee:

"It was I who introduced him to Clorinda, and I who encouraged him to try to find solace in a new life with a girl whom I esteem highly. When I wrote Seymour that I was returning to America, he replied that he too was homesick, and would join me on the Mauretania. On shipboard I became acquainted with Mrs. Berkeley and her daughter, and introduced them to Mr. Crosby. Seymour and Clorinda were obviously congenial from the first, though I should not say that either was tempestuously in love. Mrs. Berkeley encouraged the attraction—"

"I bet she did!" Gigi giggled.

Again Mrs. Lambert smiled, an expression which made her look almost like a girl again, and very beautiful. "When it became fairly obvious that an engagement would result, Mrs. Berkeley begged me to accept the post of social secretary. I had never worked for money in my life, and the prospect dismayed me, but—" she hesitated, then flung up her silver-crowned head defiantly. "The small remnant of my dead husband's estate was almost completely exhausted, and it was necessary for me to earn money in some way."

"Why didn't you get married again yourself, Tish?" Gigi began eagerly. "You're so beautiful and such a lamb I should think every plutocrat that looked at you—"

Mrs. Lambert's delicate cheeks flamed, and she stopped the rush of words by laying a hand over the child's mouth. "I accepted the position and Mrs. Berkeley asked me to begin my duties by engaging a butler and a thoroughly competent lady's maid for herself and Clorinda. I had had a letter from Wickett while I was still in France, telling me that he was returning to America, and saying that he wanted to serve me if I should again set up an establishment. On my arrival in New York I located Wickett through an employment bureau and offered him this post, which he accepted. A day or so later he sent Doris to me. She was employed on a Long Island estate, but wished to be with Wickett again."

• • •

"SHE simply adored you!" Gigi cut in.

"And I—loved Doris," Mrs. Lambert said quietly, for the second time during the interview. "I think that is all I can tell you, Mr. Dundee. As you probably know, Clorinda and Mr. Crosby became engaged on the last day of the voyage."

Dundee was silent again for a long minute. Then he asked abruptly: "Mrs. Lambert, was it from you that Doris expected to borrow sufficient money to set up a beauty shop of her own?"

"From me?" Mrs. Lambert was obviously surprised. "That is absurd. Doris knew quite well that I have nothing now except my salary as Mrs. Berkeley's secretary."

"Do you know whom she had in mind as her benefactor?" Dundee pressed.

"Why, no! I haven't the least idea."

"Forgive what must seem like unwarranted prying, Mrs. Lambert," Dundee went on, "but last night I happened to overhear Mrs. Berkeley say to you, 'All right, I promise.' Will you tell me, please, what promise you extracted from Mrs. Berkeley?"

"Really, Mr. Dundee, I must refuse to answer that question." Mrs. Lambert retorted icily. "It was a purely personal matter, having nothing at all to do with—with the tragedy you are investigating."

• • •

DUNDEE shrugged slightly, then smiled at her disarmingly as he took a rather crumpled package of cigarets and a patent lighter from his coat pocket. He was snapping unsuccessfully at the flint when Gigi scrambled out of Mrs. Lambert's lap and snatched the lighter from his hands.

"Bet it needs filling!" she told him. "Let me do it! See this funny little fountain?" and she ran around the big desk to where an ornamental little keg with gleaming brass bands held a prominent position among writing accessories. "It's a filling station for starving lighters, but we feed 'em wood alcohol instead of gas. Watch!" and she jerked the lighter apart, then held the tiny reservoir directly under the miniature spiggot whose tap she turned. "Now see if it will light."

Dundee accepted the refilled lighter with thanks, then remarked admiringly: "That's neat! I never saw one before."

"Say that to Dad and he'll make you a present of one," Gigi assured him. "He patented the thing himself and one of his factories turns them out by the thousand. He's sinfully proud of it, too. Designs a new type of 'body' every week or so. The house is full of them."

The ringing of the house telephone interrupted her torrent of words. Snatching up the receiver she cooed "Hullo!" and winked at Dundee. "Abbie—on the rampage!" she whispered after a moment. Aloud: "Yes, darling! She's still being 'quizzed.' . . . Oh, me? Why, Abbie! How can you? I'm being my most charming self—your dear, little wide-eyed daughter. . . . Of course I'm not giving away family secrets! . . . All right, darling. Keep your shirt on. I think they're almost through."

"She wants you to hurry, because she needs Tish," she explained unnecessarily.

"I'll hurry," Dundee grinned at her. "Now, Mrs. Lambert, will you please tell me when you last saw Doris Matthews?"

"At exactly what time, you mean?" Mrs. Lambert asked. "Let me think. . . . It was about 11 when I came upstairs. I went to my room first and was reading a long letter from one of my New York friends which I had been too busy to open when it came on the late afternoon post, when I suddenly remembered that I had neglected to enter an important engagement for this morning on Mrs. Berkeley's desk calendar. As I was opening my door to go to Mrs. Berkeley's sitting room I saw Doris hurrying past on her way to the backstairs. She looked as if she had been crying."

"Did you stop her—speak to her?" Dundee asked.

"Yes, I called to her. She stopped in my door and I asked her what was wrong. She said, 'Nothing. It's just that I've been talking with Mr. Crosby and—and remembering.' I saw that she was emotionally upset and did not detain her. She ran on up the backstairs to the servants' quarters and I went to Mrs. Berkeley's sitting room."

"You did!" Dundee exclaimed, startled. "We had no idea— How long were you there, Mrs. Lambert?"

MINUTES OF TOWN MEETING HELD IN 1863 OF INTEREST

Jason Ayres Town Clerk At Meeting Lasting Entire Day

An interesting meeting of the town board of Dixon township held April 7, 1863 at the old court house, is the first to appear in the minute book now in use by Town Clerk A. E. Simonson in recording the actions of the present town board and board of auditors. The minutes of the meeting, which are written in ink, are very well preserved. The late Jason C. Ayres was Town Clerk at that time and the town meeting lasted throughout the day. The chief item of business to come before the meeting was complaint of horses, cattle and pigs being allowed to run at large through the streets of Dixon and action was taken to stop the practice. On all of the records of meetings of Town Auditors, a five cent revenue stamp is found. The official proceedings of the 1863 meeting were as follows:

At the annual town meeting held in the town of Dixon, Lee county and state of Illinois at the court house in said town on the seventh day of April, A. D. 1863, the meeting was called to order between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock A. M., by Jason C. Ayres, town clerk.

Wm. De Wolf Moderator

On motion of William W. DeWolf, Lorenzo Wood, Esq., was duly chosen to preside as moderator, who being first duly sworn by William W. DeWolf, a Justice of the Peace in said town, enterted upon the duties of his office.

The polls for the election of officers were opened, proclamation thereof being first made by the clerk.

At 12 o'clock at noon, on motion of J. C. Ayres, the meeting was adjourned and the polls closed for one hour till 1 o'clock P. M.

At 1 o'clock P. M., the meeting was called to order by the Moderator and the polls were opened pursuant to adjournment.

The hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon being arrived and the general business of the day being in order:

On motion of Mr. Wood it was voted that the polls for the election of officers be closed at 4 o'clock P. M.

The following named persons were elected by yeas and nays, overseer of of highways for the ensuing year in the following road districts to wit;

Overseers of Roads

District 1—James Nowell.
District 2—Thomas Ayres.
District 3—John Moyer.
District 4—Jeremiah Dudley.
District 5—Bernhart Museman.
District 6—Zepe Hetler.
District 7—Priah Gruver.
District 8—Josiah Smethers.
District 9—Simon Bardsley.
District 11—Frederick Bossemeyer.
District 13—Dwight A. Heath.
District 14—William E. Brees.
District 15—Frank W. Woodford.

On motion of V. Santee, it was voted that the sum of $400 be raised by tax for road and bridge purposes for the year A. D. 1863.

On motion it was voted that hereafter all cattle, horses, sheep and hogs shall but shut up at night in the town of Dixon under a penalty of 50c per head for such offense.

On motion of Mr. Adams, James W. Van Ormen was appointed poundmaster.

On motion of Henry Uhl, Esq., it was voted that the poundmaster be required to give bond in the sum of $500 to be approved by the Supervisor and Town Clerk for the faithful performance of his duties.

For Town Pound

On motion of W. C. Van Osdel is it was voted that the sum of $195 be raised by tax and appropriated for the purpose of building a town pound and the disbursement of the money appropriated in cooperation with the city pound committee. The committee named was J. N. Burkett, V. Santee and William E. Breed.

On motion of Mr. Anderson it was voted that all horses, mules, and asses be kept up at night during the year under penalty of one dollar per head for such offense.

On motion of Mr. Breed it was voted that all penalties as heretofore specified may be collected by suit at law.

On motion of Henry Uhl it was voted that all bulls be kept up during the year under penalty of one dollar for each offense. On motion of Joseph Brierton it was voted that the sum of $200 be raised by tax for town expenses for the year 1863.

The Moderator announced the miscellaneous business of the day closed and the polls for the election of officers were kept open until the hour of 4 o'clock P. M. at which hour they were closed by due proclamation thereof having been made by the Town Clerk.

At the close of the election by ballot, the Moderator proceeded to publicly canvass the votes and the result of the canvas by ballot for the election of officers at the annual town meeting as aforesaid, was as follows to wit:—

On motion the meeting was adjourned at the hour of 6. P. M., sinedie.

Jason C. Ayres, town clerk.
Lorenzo Wood, Moderator.

Christian Science Sanatorium in California

SAN FRANCISCO: Under articles of incorporation already filed with the Secretary of State of California, permanent trustees took over on March 26 the ownership of the property and buildings which are to accommodate the Christian Science Benevolent Association for Pacific Coast. The Association, which will open its doors to guests about the middle of May, was established in accordance with Section 8 of Article I of the Manual of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Benevolent Association for Pacific Coast is the third large charitable institution established by The Mother Church, totaling an investment of over $4,000,000. The Christian Science Benevolent Association, located in Chestnut Hill, Mass., was chartered in 1916, and The Christian Science Pleasant View Home, located in Concord, N. H., in 1925. While all three of these corporations are independent from a legal point of view they are under the control and supervision of The Christian Science Board of Directors.

The California property, known as Arden Wood, is a thickly timbered 16 acre, piece of rolling land situated on the edge of San Francisco, its general location being between Twin Peaks and the Ocean. The Sanatorium is sheltered from the prevailing winds by the hill which forms the principal topographical feature of the property. No public roads or ways cross it, but paths will be arranged extending from the Sanatorium through the woods, making a feature of a small ravine which runs along the east boundary.

The Sanatorium, designed by Henry H. Gutterson, Architect, is of steel and reinforced concrete done in a modernized Breton style, with high central pavilion, tail classic French windows and steep-sloping, red tiled roof. It will contain accommodations for 120 guests and associates.

Within the last few weeks a substantial piece of property jutting into the principal tract, formerly held by the City of San Francisco for school purposes, has been purchased to secure additional quiet and freedom from outside disturbances.

The Board of Trustees of the San Francisco institution will be in constant touch with The Christian Science Board of Directors as are the Boards of the two New England institutions.

The three Trustees of the new corporation are Mrs. Gertrude M. Glass, George D. Greenwood, and Marvin R. Higgins. Wilson D. Clark has been appointed Manager-Treasurer. All of these officers have been actively interested in Christian Science work for many years

WEST BROOKLYN

West Brooklyn—Township election was rather quiet here this year, there not having been any opposition for any of the offices. George Schuckel and Wilder Richardson were the only two candidates who succeeded in having their names upon the ballot due to filing their petitions in time. Walter Heiman announced his intention of becoming school trustee, to fill the place of his father, and he received 29 votes which put him over. Alex Jeanblanc was also written in for constable to fill the vacancy of Chris July and received 18 votes. Clarence Ross of Compton also received a large number of votes for the same office, but as there were two to be elected, they can each have a job. With the primaries, village and school elections over with in the weeks that follow, we can settle back to normalcy.

George Schnuckel and Clyde Grimes motored to Dixon on Monday where they attended the meeting of the assessors and got their books to begin their annual task.

Mrs. A. L. Derr returned home Saturday evening from Chicago where she spent several days at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Neighbors.

Peter Blackburn and son Thomas were here on Saturday from Harmon and spent the day with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Meyer and Miss Thais motored to Aurora on Saturday where Thais remained to resume her stenographical work with the Ford Motor Company.

A. F. Jeanblanc was here from Lee Center on Friday calling on friends and acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hildmann and Mrs. Josie Slack returned to their homes at Rockford after spending a week here at the home of their sister.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mahaffey and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thompson motored to Dixon on Saturday and called on friends.

John Ackland was over from near Scarboro on Friday calling on his many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Dingler were here from Sterling on Sunday visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bernardin.

Oliver Gehant motored to Ottawa on Sunday whence he returned home with a new De Soto sedan.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henry Jr. were here from Dixon on Sunday and visited at the homes of their parents.

Mrs. Lafe Nelles entertained the ladies of the card club at her home on Tuesday afternoon where a very pleasant afternoon was had by the ladies. Mrs. Mattie Derr won first prize; Mrs. Isabelle Meyer, second, and Mrs. Kate Tressler, all-cut.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walter were here on Sunday from Viola calling on friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fassig motored to Dixon on Sunday where they visited with friends.

H. S. Strawbridge was over from Flagg station on Monday calling on business friends.

William Auchstetter and Julius Delhotal were business callers at the county seat on Monday.

Arthur Tuttle was here from Amboy on Saturday doing some plumbing work.

Word came from Rockford on Monday of the death of Mrs. Bridget Lacey who had been a patient at a hospital in that city for the past several weeks, being taken there in an ambulance from her home here. Funeral services were held at Warren, Ill., and the remains were taken to La Crosse, Wis., for burial. Mrs. Lacey had been a resident of our village but a brief time but made many friends during her stay who regret seeing her pass.

Mrs. William Untz sprung an April fool joke on Bill Tuesday when she presented him with another girl when he had his mind set on having a hired man.

Andrew Gehart and son Carl motored to Sublette on Tuesday where they visited at the home of his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Lovering.

George Bresson motored to Shabbona on Wednesday where he transacted business.

Joseph B. Bauer was very pleasantsurprised on Sunday, it being the occasion of his fiftieth birthday. The affair was gotten up wholly unbeknown to Joe and he was entirely taken by surprise when he returned home for dinner and found the house filled with guests, consisting of the children and their families an intimate frends and relatives.

Miss Irene McCrea was here from Moline enjoying her spring vacation period at the home of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Florian Walter.

Mrs. Sarah Henry was here from Rochelle on Sunday and spent the day visiting at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gehant.

Ira Lough was down from Dixon on Sunday and spent the day with his father, W. A. Lough.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sondgerot's returned home from Belvidere on Monday after spending two months in that city.

Herbert Parker was over from Ashton on Wednesday calling on business friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John N. Zinke drove to Ottawa on Tuesday where they visited with friends.

Ray and Wilbur Vickrey motored to Freeport the middle of the week where they visited with Arthur Vickrey who is employed at the Rawleigh company farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bieschke welcomed a baby girl to their home on Wednesday and Bert is taking his annual vacation from his duties as rural carrier.

Frank Knauer drove to Mendota on Tuesday on business.

William Steimel is here from Warren, Ill and is spending the week with his brother Ed.

A caravan of autos drove over from Steward on Wednesday, headed by Gardner Cook who is advertising his candidacy for sheriff.

Hie Danekas acted in the capacity of mail carrier for two days during the time of the snow drifts. Hie drove back and forth from the cement highway once a day and met the star route carrier who was unable to get here because of the snow banks.

Charles Hare was here making business acquaintances on Friday from Viola, having just moved to the Jane Phillips farm.

The funeral services of little Mary LaVerne Webber, eighteen-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Webber was held from St. Mary's church here on Saturday morning with interment at the Mendota cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. David Burkard were here from Sublette on Tuesday and spent the day visiting at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Michel.

Mr. and Mrs. John Danekas drove here from Rochelle on Tuesday and called upon friends and former neighbors. They inform us that they are now nicely located in their new home but can't stay from their old home town.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Henkel were here from Harmon on Saturday and visited with their many friends and former neighbors.

OLD EXCUSE FAILS

Minot, N. D.—(UP)—The age-old excuse, a dead or dying parent or grandmother—it has given many an office boy a holiday—almost worked for Herbert Hedrick, 25, but not quite. There was a gentleman "from Missouri" in the person of Police Chief J. A. Wagner who checked up on Hedrick's "dead mother" story and found it a myth. The youth went to jail for 10 days.

REPLACE FLOOD DAMAGE

Wibaux, Mont.—(UP)— Taught in Mother Nature's grim school of "trial and error", state and private interests are busily engaged this spring in reconstruction bridges and replacing culverts with small spans. To the Voters of the 13th Congressional District

It has been brought to my attention that my opponent for the office of State Central Committeeman for this district has been sending letters to many voters in this district representing that if he is elected he in some mysterious way will be able to obtain additional hard roads for the district.

I respectfully protest against this method of deception. The Republican State Central Committee is the governing body of the Republican party. Its duties are confined solely to the appointment of candidates on the ticket to fill in vacancies, to bring about harmony and co-operation in the party, and to assist in bringing about the election of the Republican candidates at the general election in November.

It has nothing whatever to do with hard road building, or with the functions of any department of the state. To inject the question of hard roads or any other subject into the activities and duties of the Republican State Central Committeeman could only result in bitterness and antagonism among members of the committee and would be productive of such jealous antagonism and strife between the members of the committee as would destroy or break down it's usefulness, object or purpose.

This office is one of honor, trust and responsibility regardless of what others may think on the subject. I feel that if I as a member of the State Central Committee exerted my influence in seeking to obtain hard roads for any particular part of the state, I would be violating my duties as a member of that committee.

Knowing also that members of the State Central Committee have nothing whatever to do with the road building department of the state, I would feel that I was guilty of gross deception and cheap politics if I promised to lend my influence of said committee on obtaining hard roads for any particular section of the state.

The Republican State Central Committee is a body intended to harmonize and unify all factions of the party so that at the general election victory may be assured for its candidates.

If I am elected I will confine my activities to the duties, object and purposes, of that committee in order that its various factions may be harmonized and unified in all matters pertaining to the welfare and progress of the Republican party.

I am unfortunate in that my name is in second place on the ballot for the position. I respectfully ask my friends to put a cross in front of my name which is the 2nd on the ballot under the space for "Member of State Central Committee."

Respectfully,

FRANKLIN J. STRANSKY

SELF-CONFIDENCE FOR SALE

A MAN must have confidence in himself if he wants to succeed in business or professional life. Wrinkled, careless clothes kill self-confidence.
Valetor pressing makes wrinkled, baggy clothes look and fit like new. Bagginess at the knees and elbows disappears. The soft lustre of new cloth is restored. Well-worn clothes seem as shapely as new.

And—as soon as wrinkled carelessness goes, self-confidence returns. A man who LOOKS successful and FEELS successful will BE successful.
Send your clothes here to be made young again the Valetor way!
